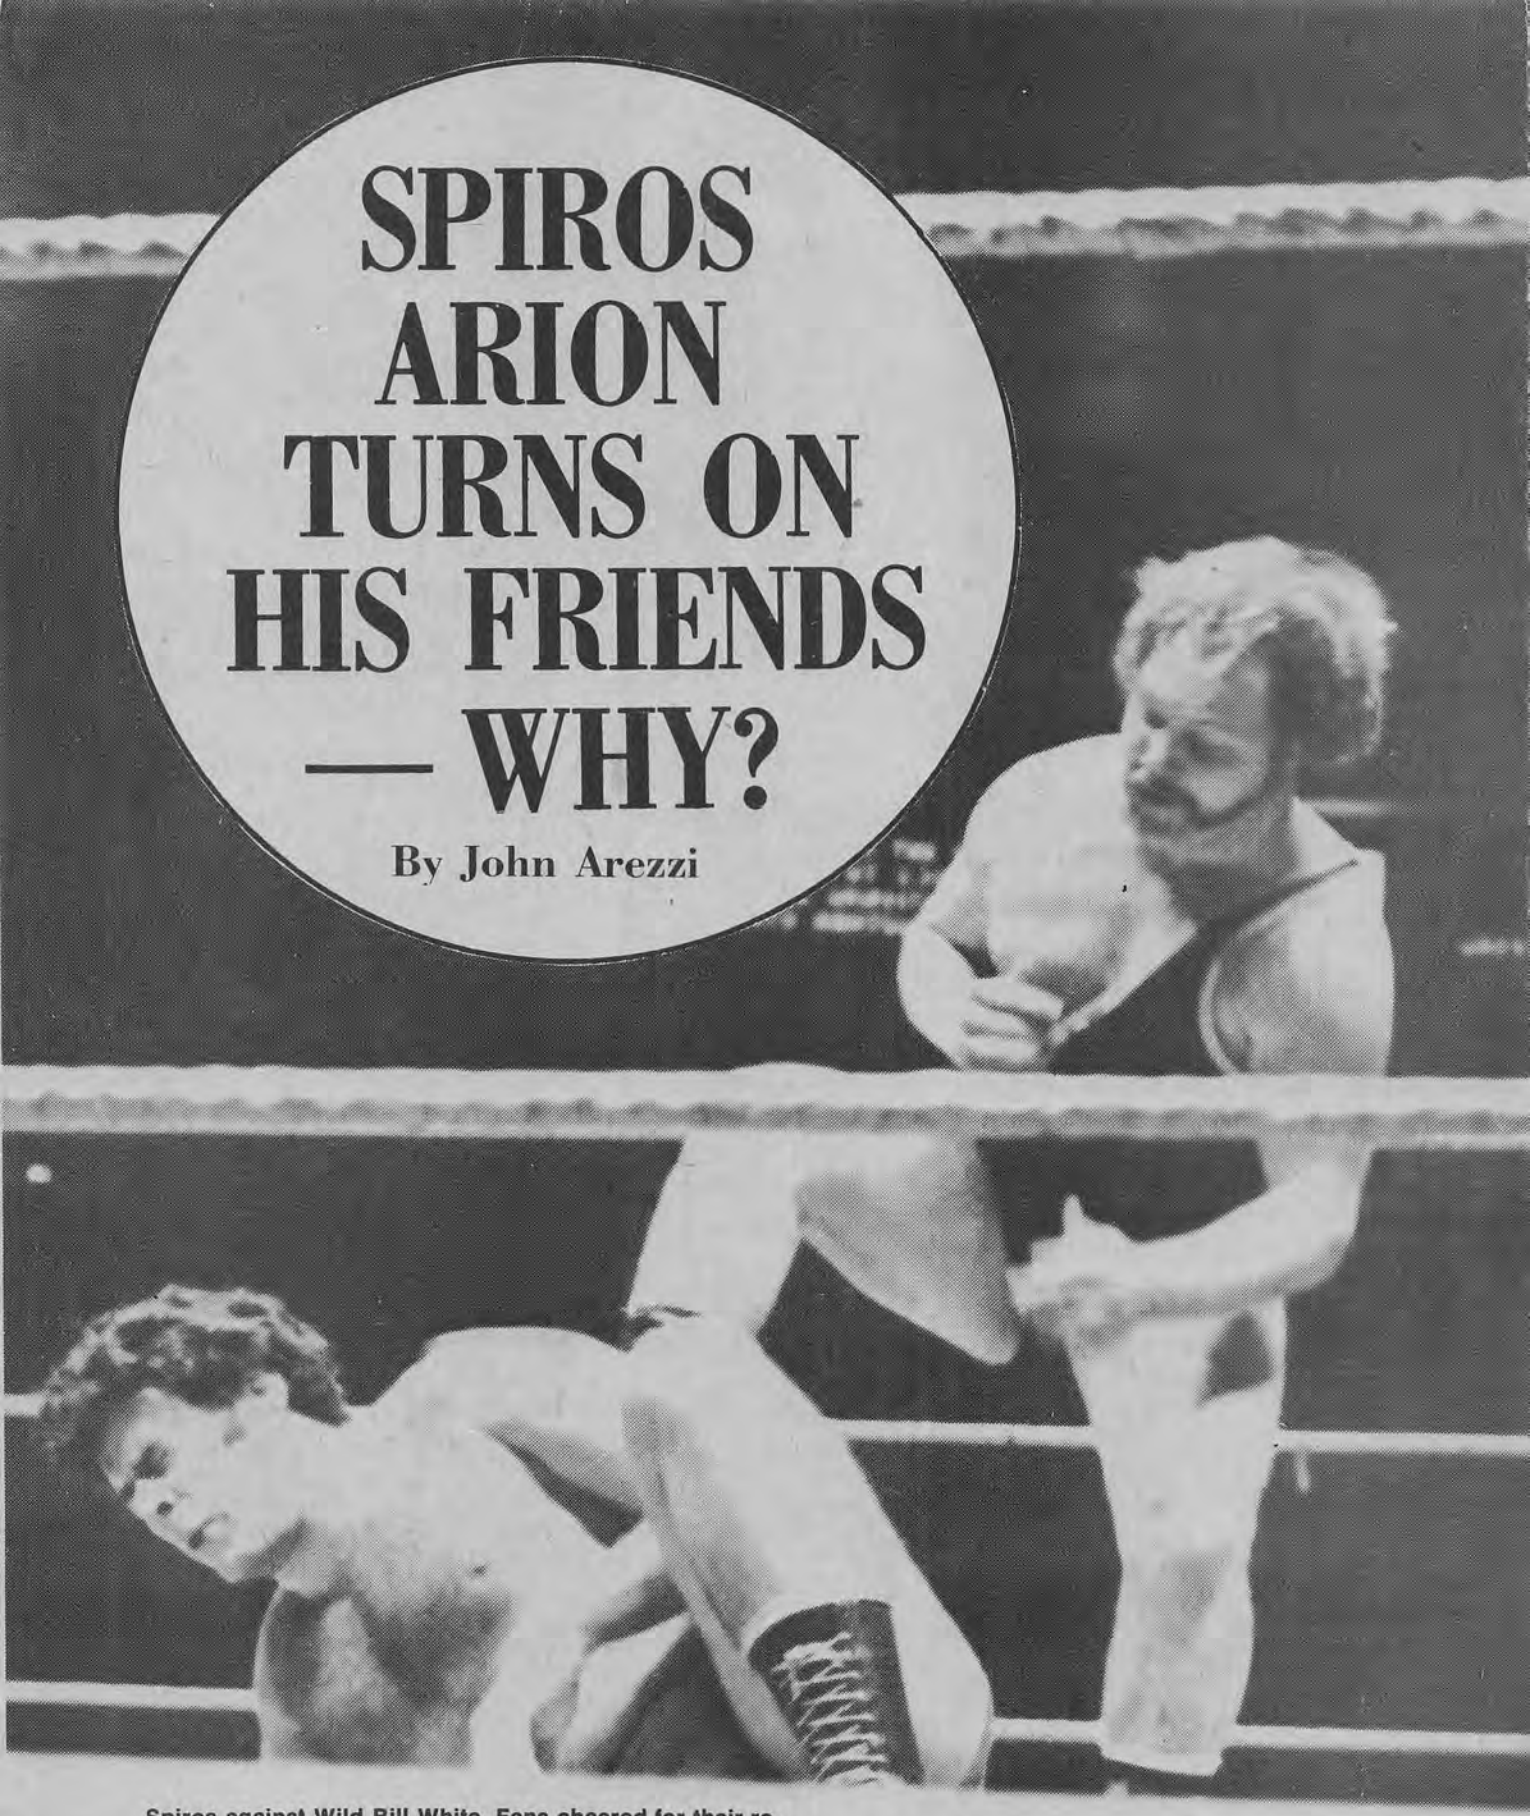
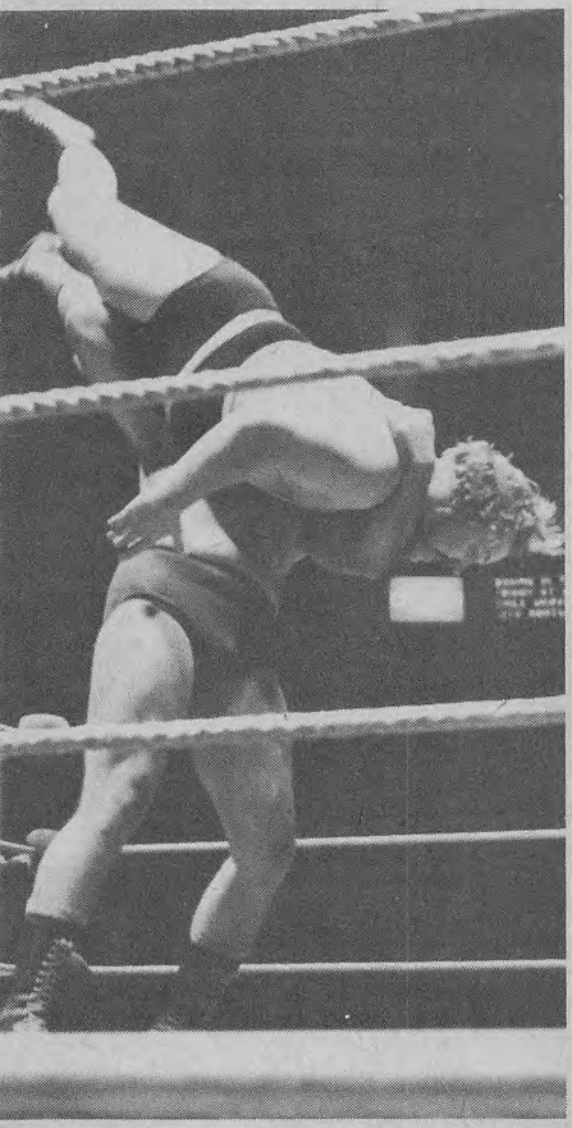
SPIROS ARION TURNS ON HIS FRIENDS — WHY?

By John Arezzi



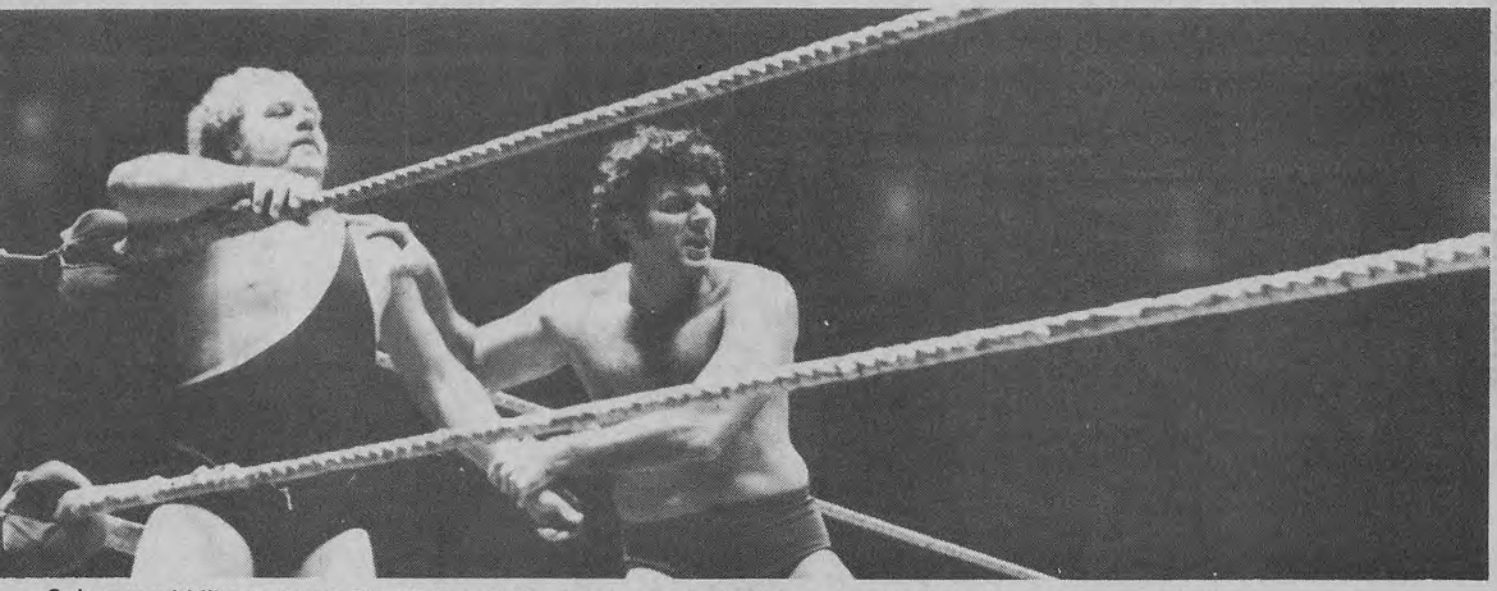
Spiros against Wild Bill White. Fans cheered for their returned hero, later the cheers would turn to boos.



Spiros getting ready to bodyslam Wild Bill White.

There was a time when if you mentioned the name of Spiros Arion to wrestling fans around the world, they told you of the gentleman he was, and best of all, what a great scientific wrestler he was. But now, ask those fans what they think of the "Golden Greek," and they will tell you what a turncoat he has turned out to be.

Spiros had everything going for him. He ranked very high on the fans' list of favorites. It came as a deep shock and big disappointment when Arion suddenly changed his ways and became a rule breaker.



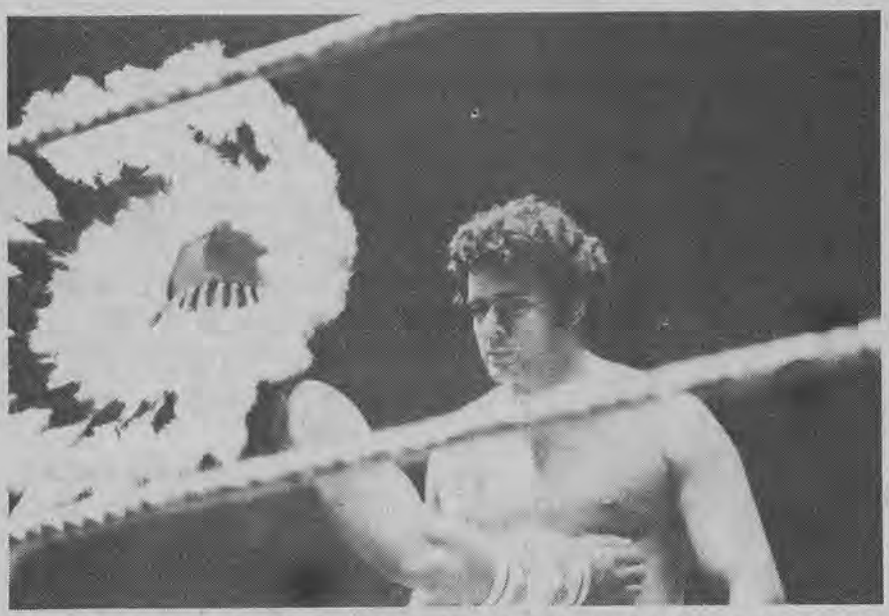
Spiros would like to throw Bill White into the ring corner but Bill hangs on to the third rope.

Let's go back to the early sixties, when Spiros first invaded the United States. Arion was undefeated in his native Greece, and in many matches in Australia, against the likes of Killer Kowalski, Buddy Austin, and Baron Scicluna.

Bruno Sammartino, touring Australia, saw this young dynamic wrestler in action and asked him to venture into the U.S. Arion agreed.

Spiros' very first night as a wrestler in the United States brought him a championship. He defeated his first opponent easily and the fans knew that this man would go far.

After Spiros' first bout, the was watching the tag team title match between then champions, Smasher Sloan and Baron Scicluna against challengers Miguel Perez and Bruno Sammartino's cousin, Antonio Puglise (now Tony Parisi). During the match Perez was injured and unable to continue.



Strongbow tries to ease the tension, but you can see by the look on Arion's face that he is not happy with his partner.

Arion, seeing this, leaped into the ring and took Miguel's place in the match. Within a few minutes, Spiros Arion and Antonio Puglise, a team that never wrestled together before, won the tag team title from Sloan and Scicluna. Spiros was an instant superstar.

The two defended their title against the best. But what Arion wanted most was a chance at Bruno Sammartino's title. That bout never came about. After a while in the U.S., Arion got homesick. He decided to pack his bags, leave the title behind and go back to Greece.

For years Spiros stayed away from the States, wrestling mostly in Greece, Australia, and Japan. Fans on the East Coast were always wondering what had happened to "The Golden Greek". Wrestling here did not seem the same without the friendly smile he always had for the fans.

Then, last summer, it was announced that Arion was returning to tour the United States. His first stop would be his old stomping grounds, the W.W.W.F. area. Personally, I was really excited about his return. Spiros was my favorite wrestler when he was here in the sixties and I was anxious to see if he had changed any.

Well, in Spiros's first match back, he looked fantastic! There were a few things different about Arion though. His hair style was one — it was longer. Spiros was once quoted as saying "I won't wear my hair long like some of these beatniks." But then, nobody really had long hair unless they were "beatniks."

Also different about Arion was his reaction to the fans' cheers. He didn't greet the fans with the usual "open arms." Just a short wave and that was it. They still cheered him like they always had, but this reaction to their applause wasn't, how can I put it, well it was not the way he accepted it in the past.

In his succeeding matches, Spiros wrestled like he'd never wrestled before. He wasn't using the moves, the scientific moves, that he had used in the past. Arion was resorting to more punches and kicks than usual. And his same cool feelings towards the fans got me thinking that this was not the Spiros Arion of old.

Spiros returned to Madison Square Garden and in his first bout, he did very well, beating Jack Evans handily. The fans cheered like crazy for their returned hero, they were glad he was back.

In his second Garden appearance, Arion once again won easily over "Wild Bill White". Spiros was angry because he wanted better competition. He was told he had to prove himself, then the better opponents would be his.

During this time, another very popular east coast wrestler, perhaps one of the most popular wrestlers in history, Chief Jay Strongbow, approached Arion with the idea of forming a tag team with him. Strongbow wanted a regular partner in his efforts to defeat the Valiant Brothers, the current tag team title holders of the World Wide Wrestling Federation. Spiros agreed to this offer.

It is needless to say that the fans loved the new and exciting tag team. Arion and Strongbow mopped up competition up and down the east coast. Spiros was doing great, but he still had that look of non-enthusiasm on his face.

In an interview he stated, "I'm very glad to be back in the United States.

"One thing, for sure, I'm not going to take any of the rough stuff from the boys here. I'm going to fight fire with fire. I have a great partner in Chief Jay Strongbow and we will beat any team put in front of us, including the Valiant Brothers."

Those statements were short lived. The Arion-Strongbow team was heading for a split.

The first time they teamed in Madison Square Garden would be their last. Arion and Strongbow easily defeated Butcher Joe Nova and Hans Schroader, but with one problem. The Greek was not giving his all, not wrestling wise, but partnership wise.

His straight face worried most fans. "Jeez, what a stone face," was the remark from one fan sitting behind me. I knew after watching them in action, that before long the tension that was building between them would erupt into a feud.

The beginning of the end came during a singles match, involving Arion against Killer Kowalski.

During the match Killer had his mask on, which he wears on occasion.

Spiros had Kowalski in serious trouble, but Killer's manager, The Grand Wizard, handed Kowalski a piece of lead to put into the mask. The Killer inserted the weapon and headbutted Spiros. Arion went down in a flash.

Chief Jay Strongbow was watching this match from the dressingroom. When he saw what was happening he ran to the ring to help his partner. The referee had no choice but to award the bout to Kowalski due to outside interference.

Spiros was steaming mad, not at Killer, but at the man who helped him — his partner, Strongbow! Arion ran to the announcer's table.

"He had no right interfering with my match," shouted the Greek. "It is my match to win or lose, and I would have won if it was not for Strongbow."

The Chief then came over. "Don't worry about a thing," he said. "I'll talk to Spiros and straighten things out. We'll be back as a team next week, mark my words."

Sure enough, the next week there they were back as a team and everything seemed just fine and dandy. But during the match Spiros refused to tag Jay on a few occasions saying Strongbow "was doing fine in there."

The Chief went into his war dance and prepared to finish off Hans Schroader.

It was then as Jay was putting the finishing touches on Schroader, that Arion wanted to enter the ring.

Stronghow ignored Spiros' outstretched hand, and pinned the German. Arion did not even stay to get his hand raised. He stormed off the scene, leaving a bewildered Strongbow wondering what was going on.

The same night it was announced that Strongbow and Arion had been chosen to meet the Valiants on television for the W.W.W.F. tag title. Strongbow was elated about this and sure that he and Arion would work well in this match. He was partially right, but then all hell broke loose.

Arion started the big match against Johnny Valiant. He quickly gained the advantage over John and started working him over. Spiros then tagged the Chief to let him have a chance. It looked like there were to be new champions crowned that night, and the fans were going absolutely wild with delight.

The two men were working well together as the Valiant Brothers were worrying about their title. Then the roof fell in. As Strongbow clamped on his famous finisher "Sleeper hold" on Luscious John, Jim ran in to help his brother. Spiros also ran in, but Jim let him have it, and Arion went reeling into his corner. Jim then kicked Strongbow and the Chief barreled into his partner and Spiros went flying through the ropes.

Strongbow was in the ring, stunned, and Arion was outside the ring reaching for a metal chair, and heading back towards the ring. To the shock of all in attendance, Spiros took the chair and slammed it down on his partner's head! A large gash was opened on the Indian's head and Arion walked away from him.

There was mass confusion all over the arena. Then Bruno Sammartino rushed into the ring to find out why Arion had turned against Jay. Bruno went over to his good friend Spiros, AND BRUNO TOO WAS FLATTENED! Sammartino went down, and Arion told the Valiants that they were free to work over his friends.

To Luscious John and Handsome Jimmy's delight, they agreed. The two brothers beat the daylights out of the already injured Sammartino and Strongbow. Lou Albano was dancing in the ring, blowing his whistle. It was utter mayhem!

The crowd was on the verge of a riot, and the arena police had their hands full trying to control their angry mob. Then, to top things off, ARION EMBRACED LOU ALBANO!

Now Bill has Spiros in the same position. Bill is getting ready to bodyslam Arion on the rebound.

Arion in another Garden appearance without Strongbow, before the change took place. Notice the half way friendly smile on his face. In succeeding bouts, that smile disappeared.

Eye-popping catches are reported from every section of the country, so we say "Prove it to yourself!" Use ACTION LURE for a full month, see for yourself how you catch more fish, bigger fish, how your friends insist on learning your amazing fishing secret.

Works like magic even when other lures and bait fail completely!

You'll haul in limit catches when others aren't even getting a nibble, in lakes, streams, rivers, oceans, wherever you fish! Just picture your self-propelled ACTION LURE slashing through the water in brilliant reds, whites & yellows, only 2" long yet carrying enough fuel to cut through the water for as much as one full hour with a single load! Plunging down to fifteen foot depths, rising again to the surface almost once every minute, ACTION LURE plows through the water tirelessly, pulling in the big ones from hundreds of yards around you!

Here's how ACTION LURE works: All you do is snap open the fuel chamber, drop in two pellets of fuel, and close the fuel chamber again. Takes less than 60 seconds; you don't even dirty your hands! And then . . . simply cast or lower ACTION LURE into fresh or salt water, and get set for the fishing thrill of your life!

ACTION LURE GUARANTEE

ACTION LURE is guaranteed to catch more fish and bigger fish in every kind of water, in every kind of weather. If you are not completely satisfied in every respect, return ACTION LURE within 30 days for complete refund.

For perhaps one minute ACTION LURE will float quietly; then, as water reaches the fuel, your lure will seem to shudder for a second, then spring dramatically to "life!" Making the buzzing sound of a dying bee, ACTION LURE will point its nose downward, and begin its first descent! Slowly, jerkily, like a maimed minnow, it will swim noisily downward, buzzing and humming, traveling about nine feet every fifteen seconds! If no fish intercepts it, its descent automatically stops, it slowly raises up its nose and climbs to the surface again!

And again! And again! Tirelessly, hour after hour, far beyond the reach of your own casts! Roaming restlessly over every foot of water beneath you – even on slack line – even when your boat is tied up – even when you're curled upon the dock, sound asleep! And all the while ACTION LURE is swimming and buzzing and driving the fish around you to such a frenzy they practically tear the rod out of your hands!

World's first self-propelled lure!

No wonder this revolutionary ACTION LURE took six full years to develop! Here's what ACTION LURE will do for YOU! . . .

It frees you forever from the filthy tasks of digging for worms & crawlers, catching frogs, or paying 50c to $1 for a bucket of minnows that die on you before you can even get them into your boat! It frees you forever from paying $3, $4, or even $5 for those fancy "Head-as-a-Duck" lures that only work when you tow them!

Tomorrow, for the first time in your life, you'll be weighing down your boat with bass, trout, pike, pickerel, perch . . . limit catches of pan fish, game fish, fresh and salt water fish, wherever you can drop a line! You'll fish better – novice or pro – sound asleep at the bottom of your boat, than most fishermen sweating and casting till their arms ache from exhaustion!

And you'll have the time of your life, amazing your friends and family with your hauls, and seeing your fishermen friend's eyes pop as they watch your incredible self-propelled ACTION LURE at work!

Try one full month at our expense!

You have nothing to lose! Fish with ACTION LURE for one full month entirely at our risk! Cost is only $2.98. You receive ACTION LURE plus enough fuel to last up to a full year, together with complete instructions. Four "alluring" colors: red, green, orange, yellow. Strongbow, on the mat, quivering from the beating, needed help badly. Bruno was also in very bad shape. It was an unbelievable sight. Then Arion, Albano, and the Valiants headed back to the dressing room while the two most popular wrestlers on the east coast lay in the ring, helpless.

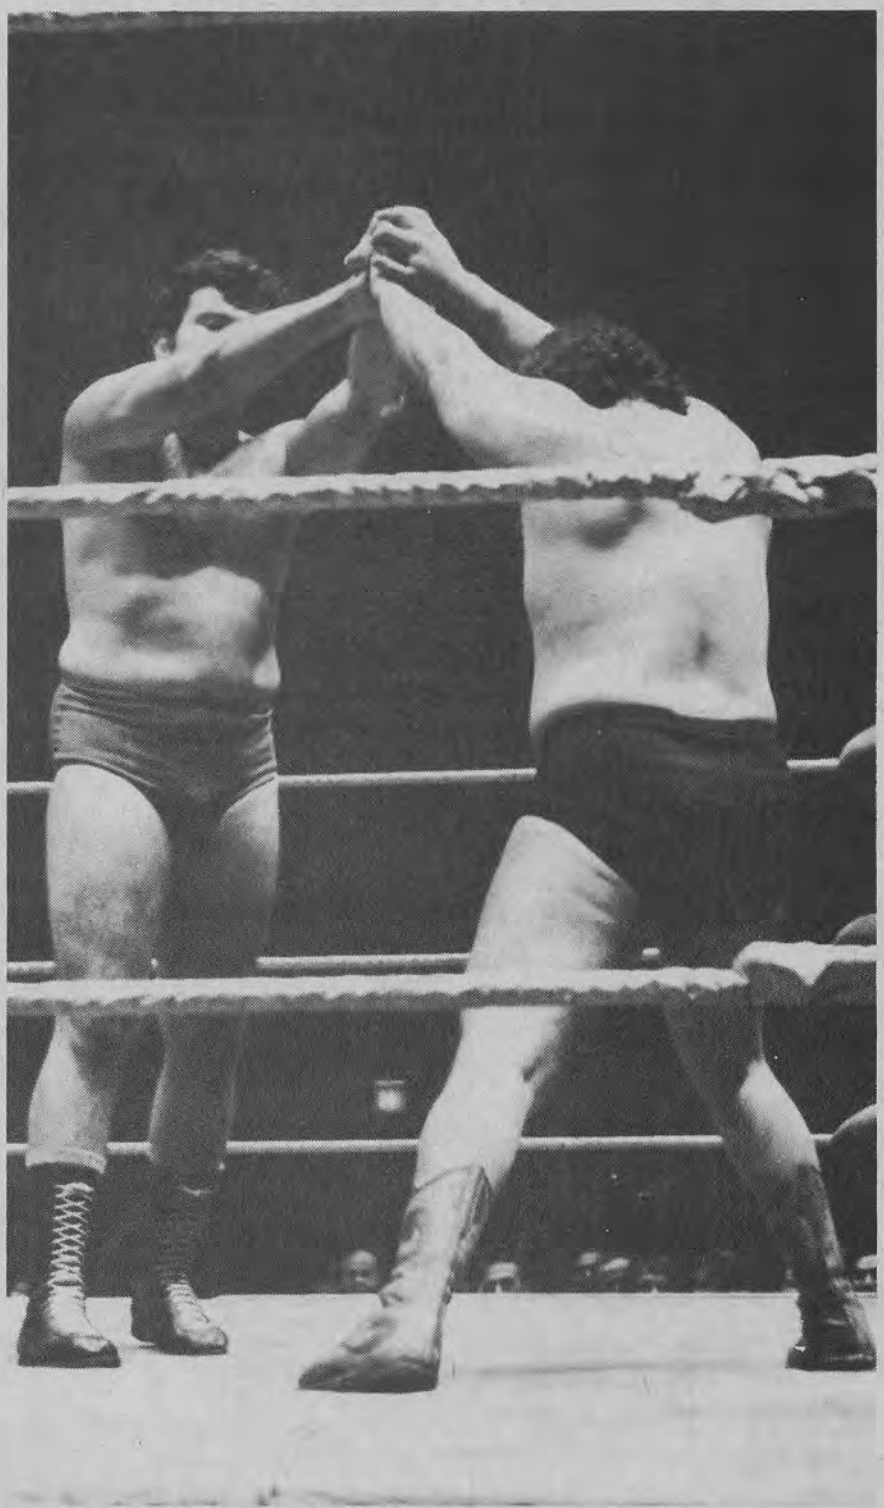
Arnie Skoland, Bruno's manager, came into the ring and helped the injured duo. Arnie was fuming.

"I can't understand this," he shouted. "I knew that Spiros and Strongbow were not getting along lately — everyone knew that. That's no reason to attack two of your best friends! This has to be the worst display of sportsmanship I have ever seen in my career.

"And then," Arnie continued. "Embracing Albano, that I thought I'd never see. Bruno has been friends for years with Spiros, I just can't see why he did it. Someone is going to pay for this, you can bet on that, and that someone is Spiros Arion!"

ARENA POLICE, HANDS FULL TRYING TO CONTROL ANGRY MOB

Arnie is right. Spiros Arion had better watch out. Jay Strongbow is not the kind of person to take a sneak attack. That's how his 4-year feud with Albano got started. Bruno isn't one to take this thing lightly either. There is going to be plenty of blood spilt in the future. We'll just have to see whose blood it is, Bruno Sammartino's, Chief Jay Strongbow's, or the newest villain of wrestling, turncoat Spiros Arion's!!! ●



Spiros in his initial return to Madison Square Garden against "Dynamite" Jack Evans. Spiros won handily.

Spiros is in bad position here as he battles with "Dynamite" Jack Evans.

NUNCHAKU
KARATE'S DEADLIEST
FIGHTING STICKS!

Protect Yourself and your loved ones! STOP ANY ATTACKER with frightening, devastating Nunchaku Sticks Swings. Strikes. Catches. Pinches. Choking, and other wipe-out techniques all yours to learn in no time at all. The application of the Nunchaku to be effective, requires a mere flick of the wrist quickly, a firm grip, and a sense of determination. You will be able to strike an opponent and whip out the chaku (one stick) quickly and effortlessly before your attacker can offer any defense. The greatest advantage of the Nunchakus over any other form of self-defense like Karate or Kung-Fu is that this weapon is an extention of your hands and legs. With one swing, the Nunchaku will double in size therefore shortening the distance between you and your opponent. Imagine, being able to strike, crush, jab, or thrust at your enemy without having to fear his mightiest kick or punch! Your attacker will not be prepared and will not be warned of the unusually long striking range of your Nunchakus. Also, the sticks by themselves look relatively harmless. This being the case, you have the great advantage of surprise which will allow you to handle any threatening situation that may occur.

I'll Make YOU AN EXPERT IN NUNCHAKU-Karate's DEADLIEST FIGHTING STICKS...AN ORIENTAL ART OF KOBUJITSU-WEAPONS FIGHTING THAT IS APPLIED without directly using your limbs or body.

This Oriental Art of Kobujitsu—weapon fighting that is applied with minimum use of your limbs or body—enables YOU to disable an attacker from several feet away BEFORE he can bat an eyelash! Fast as lightening! The Okinawan method of offensive defense, 470 years old, has been preserved within the ancient Tokugawa Era. UNTIL RECENTLY ONLY THIRD DEGREE BLACK BELTS WERE PERMITTED TO LEARN THIS ANCIENT KOBUJITSU WEAPON . . . TAUGHT IN STRICT SECRECY. Now these devastating methods requiring NO PHYSICAL STRENGTH, NO BODILY CONTACT and a MINIMUM PHYSICAL EXERTION, NO APPLICATION OF YOUR HANDS OR FEET—are revealed to YOU regardless of your past experience or your lack of experience in the Martial Arts, by Dr. Andrew S. Linick, Nunchaku Master, who has broken away from the Oriental tradition of "secrecy" to teach YOU—AT HIS OWN RISK!

NEVER FEAR ANYONE AGAIN! The Nunchaku is a combination of two pieces of solid wood, fourteen inches long, weighing well over a Pound. The Chaku was originally used by Okinawan farmers to pound produce on farms and in fields. It is sometimes referred to as sticks and chain. Horsehair was originally used because of its high-tensile strength; rope, nylon and chain were substituted with more devastating effects! In about thirty hours of instruction, YOU will immediately learn how a smaller, weaker man, even a woman can overpower and disable a 200 pound brute in a matter of seconds! Read On!

One of the epic struggles with The Sheik. This shot was taken before the blood began to flow.

AFTER YEARS ABSENCE FROM THE MAT

TEX McKENZIE'S 3 EXPLOSIVE BATTLES AGAINST THE SHEIK

McKenzie grunts and groans his way to victory.

The man with the ten gallon hat and high-heeled brown buckskin boots stops to sign autographs after a match from which he has emerged the victor, as usual. He has to bend down a long way to reach the kids who wave the proferred booklets in his direction. He is 6 feet 7 inches and weighs just under 300 pounds and difficult to miss in a crowd. His ear-to-ear smile is as noticeable as his height and his happy-go-lucky comportment keeps those fan clubs of his well populated.

Tex McKenzie has been around for a long time. There are very few grapplers who have not come across his name at one time or another when wrestlers just sit around and gossip about their own and about why some disappear and never come back to the game. McKenzie was one of those men who disappeared.

Back is the early 60's the long, lean Texan had reached the zenith of this career. His travels across the country were in response to popular demand. Fans just couldn't get enough of him. Then his name dropped from sight and his fans grew restless. Where had their hero gone off to? It seemed that Tex McKenzie had given up the mat life.

Now and then his name would appear on cards in the St. Louis, Texas, and Hawaii territories, but so infrequently that he became a real mystery to the wrestling community and to his faithful following.

After six years of absence from the ring, Tex was resurrected. He came back to what he knew best and signed with promoter Francis Fleser for an appearance in the Motor City area. The Detroit fans hadn't forgotten Tex despite his long absence.

The Cobo arena played host to the Texan over several months. The comeback got off to a few jerky starts, then switched into high gear and he was on his way back to his old form. The fan clubs that had dwindled to but a mere handful, once again began to proliferate, nourished by the presence of the affable grappler once again in their midst.

It was after several "training months", as he likes to call them, that McKenzie sought to meet the United States champion, at that time, The Sheik. He set his sights toward the top niche in the wrestling world but then he had earned his status — it was not a condescension that the Sheik consented to the encounter.

There were two reasons why Tex wanted the bout with The Sheik. One of them was, of course, a chance to capture the title for himself, the other was less selfish. Several months before this match, his good friend Lord Layton was bloodied by The Sheik and almost blinded. It was also to avenge this outrageous act that he wanted to meet him.

The Sheik and McKenzie met on the battlefield three times. They were all explosive encounters that rocked the wrestling community with its force. In the first match, Tex won. The Arab was out-maneuvered at every turn and it appeared that the title might change hands before the night was through. Tex, however, could not contain himself. He was badly humiliated by the tactics of The Sheik and retaliated with some of the Arab's own medicine. The latter was severely weakened by his own methods and eventually completely overcome by them. The referee saw it all and could not give Tex the win. Instead he disqualified both men. A new time was arranged for them to meet.

The second match went to no-contest. It seems when Tex had The Sheik at his mercy and was putting the final touch on him with his famous bull-dogging headlock, right in the middle of the air, the referee, not fully aware of the maneuver, failed to move in on time to make the count. Tex lay on top of The Sheik, waiting for the 1-2-3 count that would have made him champ. But the referee was lying on the arena floor, out cold. So they called it no-contest.

The last bout was the bloodiest match that anyone had ever witnessed. Both men were bleeding extensively from several gashes in their bodies. Several fans had to be ushered out of the stadium by friends who themselves were overcome from nausea. The Sheik started off the festivities by bringing out a sharp missile hidden under his trunks. The referee had searched the wrestler before the bout but must have missed it — Tex didn't.

The Sheik drew the first drops of blood within the early moments of the bout, no doubt in response to the proximity with which Tex had come to removing the championship belt from him in the previous bouts. Tex clutched at his side from where the fluid issued. He could not believe it. There he was, in the same damn situation that just a few weeks before his good friend Lord Layon found himself in.

2 REASONS WHY TEX BATTLES THE SHEIK

He then did what he had to do. He went after the mad jabber and wrested the object from him. Now it was Tex's turn to return the compliment. The Sheik turned tail fearing the consequence of the object that he so mercilessly and freely wielded on the bodies of other grapplers.

His worst fears were well founded. Tex was no "sissy" with his weapon and went after The Sheik with a vengeance. It was not until the Arab had received several cuts that the referee was able to remove the object from the wrestlers. By this time, it did not matter much. Both, weakened by the great loss of blood, lay in their respective pools of blood in the ring. They had to be escorted from the ring and given immediate attention by the ringside medics. The cuts were not deep enough to cause permanent scars but you couldn't make either wrestler any happier with that information at that time. There was no decision, but also there was no new champion... perhaps after all, it was a clever scheme by The Sheik to safeguard his title.

Proof of Tex's popularity is in the magnitude of his fan clubs that spread across the entire North American continent, also in the sales figures for the Tex McKenzie buttons which have his picture engraved on them and the Tex McKenzie cowboy hats and pennants. His fans have gobbled these items up. Another popular item that Tex gives his friends is the "Texas 100 Dollar Bucks". On the front are pictures of Tex and on the back is a Texas emblem, names of famous Texans and the words, "The Bearer of This Note Must Wear a Ten Gallon Hat, Boots, and Call Himself Tex."

Tex is a great talker and a kidder. The humor in his stories are only offset by the thick Texan accent that permeates his speech. He talks freely in his interviews, liberally sprinkling it with enough "doggonnits" and "gosh darns" to identify his birthplace. It's sometimes difficult to follow the dialect but his faithful following hardly listen. They just gape a little and gawk... and then shove an autograph booklet into his hands. ●

Tex McKenzie paces the ring and sizes up his opponent before the action resumes.

The Shiek looks the worse for wear as Luis Martinez uses referee's shirt for a bit of revengeful strangulation.

The Interstate highways that crisscross the United States have to be the greatest thing since the invention of the automobile. This thought was passing through the mind of Luis Martinez as he wheeled home. He had just finished a match at the Rochester, New York, Memorial Gardens and was on his way home to the Windy City, Chicago. You can run west on the New York thruway, down interstate 90, onto the Ohio turnpike to the Indiana tollroad, and right into downtown Chicago.

WHILE DRIVING FROM ROCHESTER, N.Y. TO WINDY CITY

It was a boring long trip, but Luis had his car with him so taking a plane was out of the question. Still, with steady driving, he would be home in faster time than the morning flight. A devout family man with five children, Luis will drive a thousand miles home so that he may spend some time with his family. There was little traffic, so Luis speeded up a few miles.

It would be good to get home for a couple of days. Living out of a suitcase for two or three weeks can get depressing. Sometimes Luis wondered why he continued to live like this. Why not get a job?

LUIS MARTINEZ REMINISCES ON LIFE AND CAREER

By George McCarther

Something from eight to five. See the family regularly. Play with the kids. Go to the same church every Sunday. This would be a long drive, and being alone, there would be plenty of time to think.

How did this all start? Nobody forced him to wrestle for a living. He thought about his pre-wrestling days. About the gymnasium that he operated with Steve Reeves in Chicago. Steve had gone on to better things, playing Hercules in all those Italian movies. Coming home to America and buying a horse ranch. He did well.

The gym had always been a dream for Luis. He loved to work out with the weights and he loved to run. It was only after the gymnasium was established that the wrestling bug had bit him. Things were going well, Steve and he were making a fair dollar. He was home every day.

Then a couple of professional wrestlers showed up one afternoon and Luis watched as they tossed the weights around. Then a few more showed up, as the word went out that the Martinez-Reeves gym was a good place to work out. Luis became friendly with the wrestlers and in turn the wrestlers encouraged the well-built Martinez to try his hand at the sport.

The weights and running had kept Luis in tip-top condition. It would be a case of learning the holds, how and when to apply them. The idea appealed to him and he became enthusiastic. The more he learned, the more he wanted to learn, and he couldn't wait for his first match.

After six months of steady training Luis was ready. A nervous Martinez entered the ring. There was a large Mexican-American group in the audience and they encouraged him with shouts in Spanish. From the start of the match Luis was in trouble. Only his excellent conditioning kept him going as his opponent, the experienced Rudy Kay, beat him into the mat with his fists, kicking and punching Martinez into the corner, as the young hero fought to come to his feet.

Then came the shouts and yells that were to become Luis' trademark. The Chicano contingent stood up, and in unison chanted "Ariba! Ariba!

Ariba," a Mexican battle cry meaning, "Rise up and fight." Slowly Luis started coming to his feet; finally, he was up and running around the ring. Slowly at first, and then a little faster, as he ran he screamed along with the fans: "Ariba! Ariba! "Ariba!".

And he went berserk. He was all over the surprised Kay. The boxing experience that Luis possessed prior to opening the gym returned as he threw lefts and rights. The street fighting from the tough Chicago back alleys returned as he kicked and butted, and finally he wheeled Kay into the ropes and caught him coming off with an abdominal stretch. The crowd came to its feet with a tremendous roar.

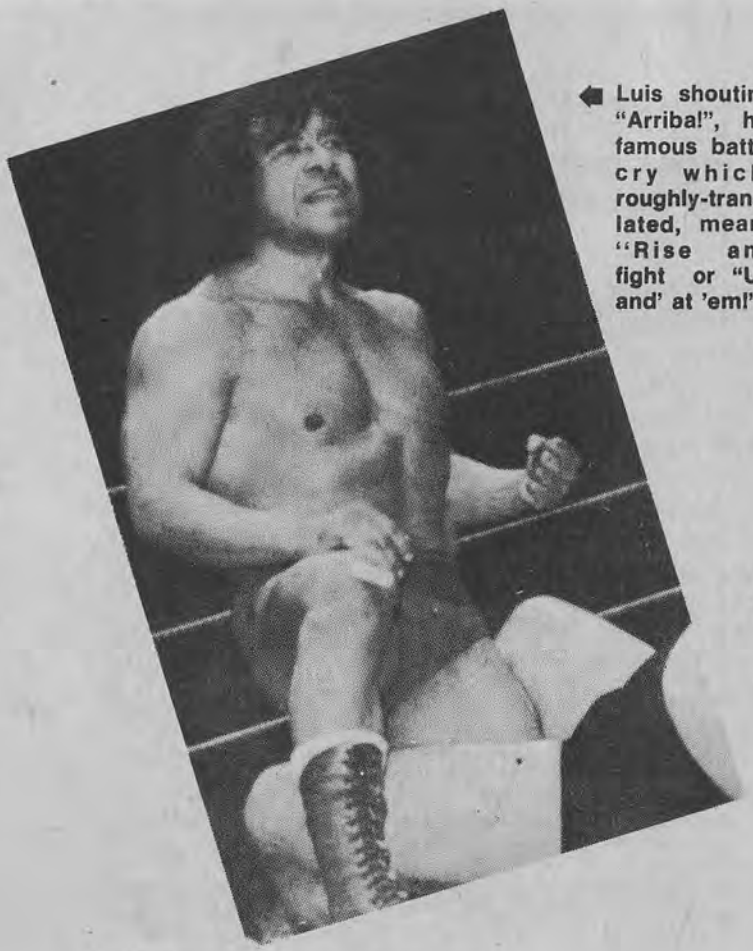
Luis smiled as he remembered that night. It would have to be one of the great thrills of his life.The "Ariba" shouts that inspired him became a call that opponents would hear from both fans and Luis himself. That was some time ago and a lot of water ran under the bridge since. There were the big money matches. The large gates. The top opponents. The travelling and places that he visited, plus all the nice people that he met.

The night in Houston, when the Mexican-American people honored him after his championship match. There was the night he won the California State championship. And of course the big one, the title he won with Flying Fred Curry as his partner. Fred, who is the son of the veteran Bull Curry, and Luis, held the N.W.A. World Tag team title for a period of seven months, during which they put the belts on the line against some of the top tag team combinations in the country.

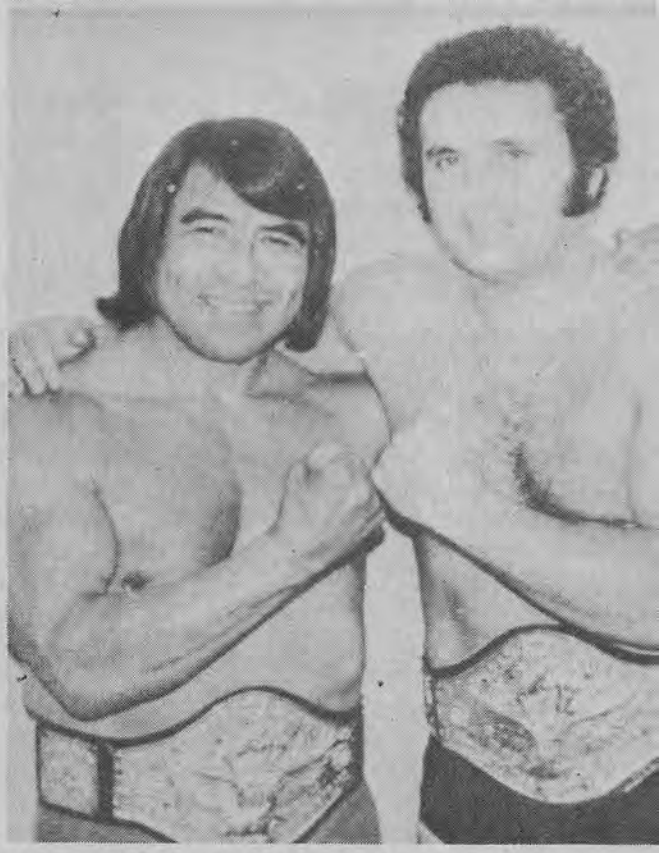
There were the blood-bath matches with the fire-throwing Sheik. At the time they were hell, but when you look back at something like that, you know that you emerged a better man for it all. The names of opponents raced through his mind; Bruiser, Kowalski, Bernard, Brower, Graham, The Kangaroos, Cannon, Hamilton, Valentine. The list is endless and sounds like the "who's who" of wrestling.

How about the time the Mayor of Luis's home town of Monterey, Mexico presented him with the key to the city? Luis smiled about that. His cousin, who still lived there and worked for a newspaper, told the editor that Luis was coming back for a visit. He had left the Mexican city with his parents when he was a youngster.

This would be his first visit back to see relatives and visit his grandmother who still lived. The cousin



Luis shouting "Arriba!", his famous battle cry which, roughly-translated, means "Rise and fight or "Up and' at 'em!"



Luis Martinez and partner, "Flying Fred" Curry, proudly pose with belts they defended for seven months as N.W.A. World Tag Team champions.

LUIS MARTINEZ, FAMILY MAN DRIVES THOUSANDS OF MILES TO SPEND TIME WITH HIS FAMILY had pictures of Luis, and newspaper clippings from every major city in the United States and Canada. The paper did a big write-up on the returning hero and it just caught fire.

There would be a Luis Martinez day. As the papers played it up, the people ate it up. A ceremony at the city hall and the key given to Luis and his family. It was a wonderful feeling. Would it have been possible if Luis had not been a big-time professional wrestler? All those pictures of him beating the gringo. He was Zapata, Juarez, and Pancho Villa all rolled into one.

Let's see what is on the schedule for next week. Cleveland, Buffalo, Indianapolis and Detroit. All excellent paydays. As the car approached the Illinois border the sun was coming up. Funny, coming home at this hour. He was only forty-five minutes from home now. Most people were just going to work. The nearer Luis got to Chicago, the heavier the traffic.

All these people up so early to go to work! Look at their eyes. Still red from half a night's sleep and getting ready to put in a full day's work. Is this what being home would mean? Giving up all the good feelings and nice happenings? Could I give my family the comforts they have? Would they be so very happy to see me if it was a common thing?

Would coming home be so important? The grass is always greener, Luis thought. He remembered some friends who were struggling to make ends meet, living from day to day, always telling Luis how lucky he was to travel and see things. As the car rolled up the ramp off the expressway he smiled half out loud. "Mex," he said to himself, "you don't know how lucky you are, think about in for another second."

He wheeled into the driveway of his home. His wife came to the door. "Honey, we missed you" she called. "Me too sweetheart" he answered. "Me too." ●

BLEEDERS OF THE MAT

Dale Roberts lies writhing in pain as the blood spurts from a deep wound just below the hairline.

The traditional non-believer's theory that wrestling is nothing but a piece of fakery is being washed away by a tidal wave of blood.

It's a sickening commentary on today's tendency to disbelieve everything that the practitioners of the art of professional wrestling must let their own blood to convince the scoffers.

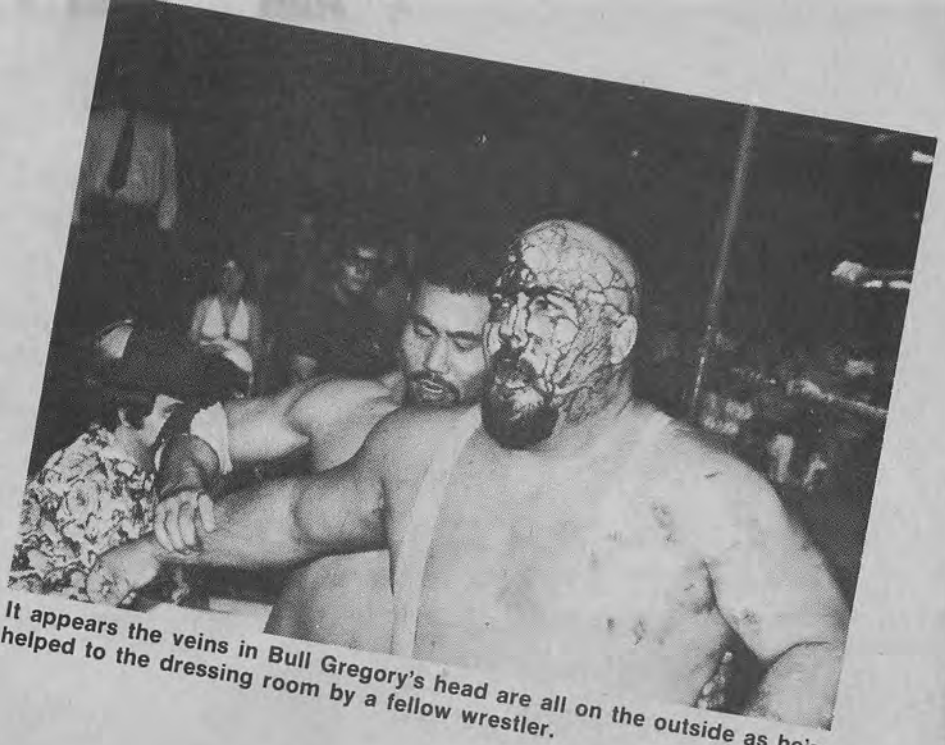
But that's the way it's going lately.

From the Atlantic to the California shores — and beyond — there isn't a square of canvas that isn't stained with the gore of the combatants.

Most of the real pros lament this state of events, but it would be unrealistic to think that many of the villains of the game don't enjoy seeing their foes blinded by their own blood.

But it looks like there's no turning back. With today's

You can take our word — Danny Lynch is not saying "cheese" for the ringside photographer. He's just waiting to clear his vision.



It appears the veins in Bull Gregory's head are all on the outside as he's helped to the dressing room by a fellow wrestler.

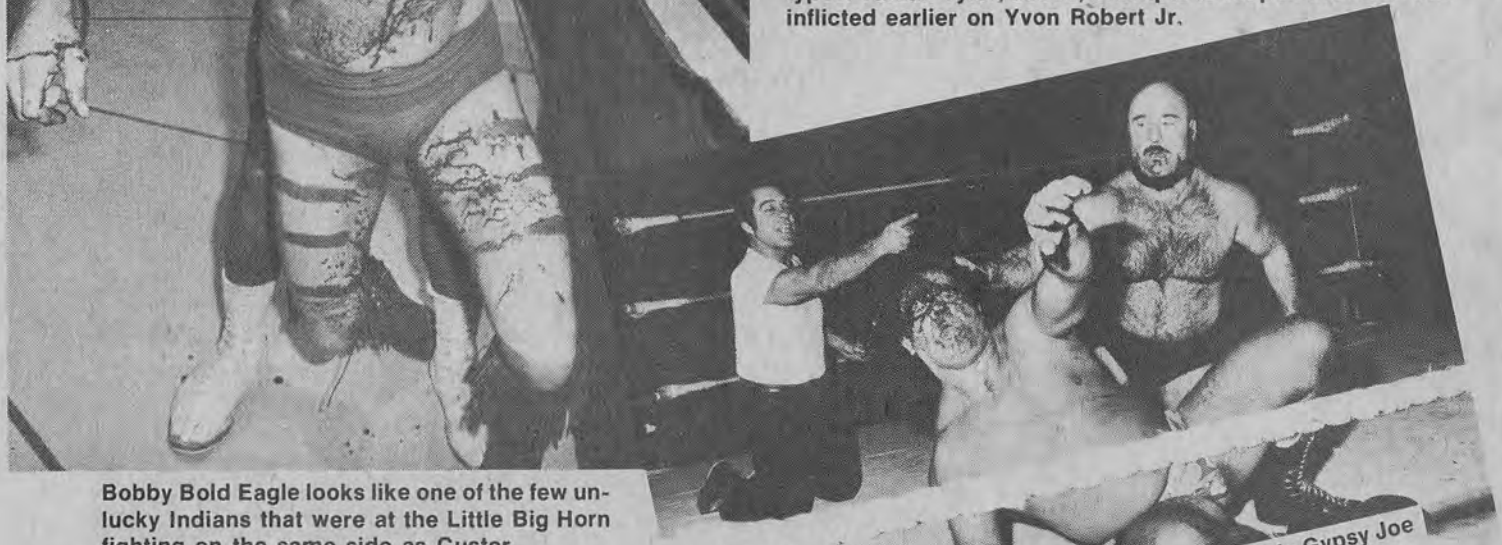
accelerated action in the ring, even the good guys wind up bathed in blood — theirs or the opponents.

Photos on this page can't really tell the whole story but you can take our photographer's word for it. There's no illusion to the lifeblood pumping its way out onto the canvas.

Abdullah the Butcher wonders if perhaps his opponent wasn't using a cleaver to open the top of his skull.

Gino Brito goes into near-shock as he winds up looking like a dish of his Mama's famous spaghetti sauce.

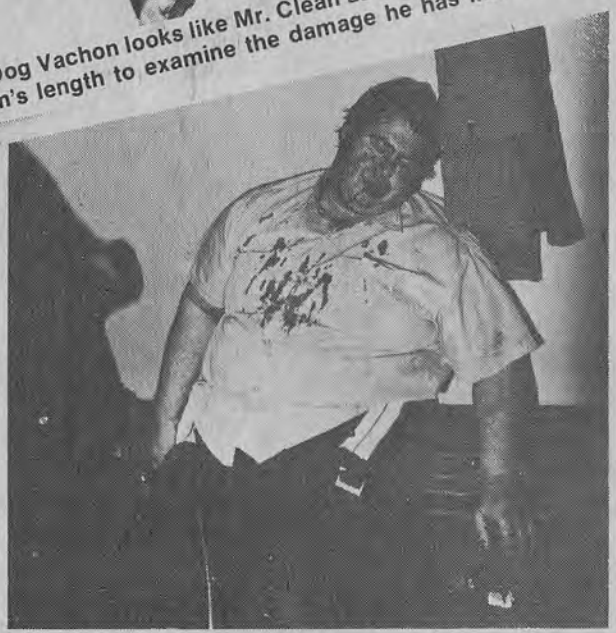
The only difference between the two is probably their blood types. Tarzan Tyler, above, attempts to reopen the wound he inflicted earlier on Yvon Robert Jr.



Bobby Bold Eagle looks like one of the few unlucky Indians that were at the Little Big Horn fighting on the same side as Custer.

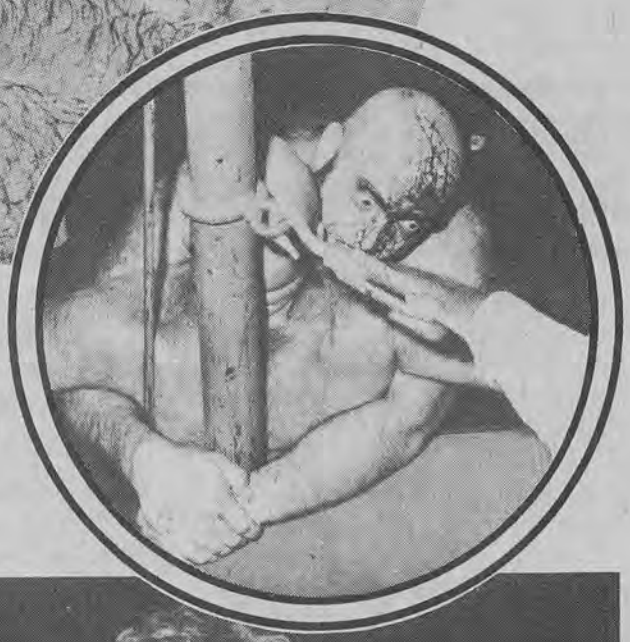
Mad Dog Vachon looks like Mr. Clean as he holds Gypsy Joe at arm's length to examine the damage he has inflicted.

Gypsy Joe's fighting defiance hasn't been tempered by the tremendous loss of blood sustained in a recent bout of mayhem.



It was just too much for GiGi the Greek. Bedecked with his own blood, he passed out back in the dressing room.

Medics won't have any trouble finding the open wound when they start sewing up Joe Leduc's hairless head.



The old expression "blood in his eye" is no better illustrated than here when Joe Leduc follows his attacker out of the ring.

The Sheik is probably wishing he had an oil well that worked as well as the head wound gushing all over his fierce visage.

T.V. A BIG BOOM TO THE PROS IN THE LAND DOWN UNDER

Television has its boosters and its knockers, all over the world, but down under in New Zealand there's an exclusive group that is 100 percent in favor of the tube.

The advent of televised wrestling in New Zealand has given the sport a real shot in the arm.

Not that the sport was in any way unhealthy before television.

The biggest asset the TV camera has to its credit is the arrival of many new and prominent personalities from across the seas.

The Japanese giant, Ho Chi Laos came down under and teamed up with Abdullah the Butcher. Ho Chi is a member of Giant Baba's stable and is one of Japan's leading wrestlers. He and the Butcher left a trail of blood and terror across the rings of New Zealand.

The American invasion force of grapplers has just recently left our shores with a promise of a quick return and some new faces.

Besides the high quality of competition the Yanks brought with them, they also left the valuable benefit of experience for our local boys. Many New Zealanders will be leaving on overseas tours shortly.

Steve Rickard, John Da Silva, Onno Boelee, Johnny Garcia and Robert Bruce are all booked for out-of-the-country matches.

Johnny Garcia has recently returned from a tour of Australia and Wild Don Scott just came back from Fiji where he met the local champion before a sellout crowd in Suva.

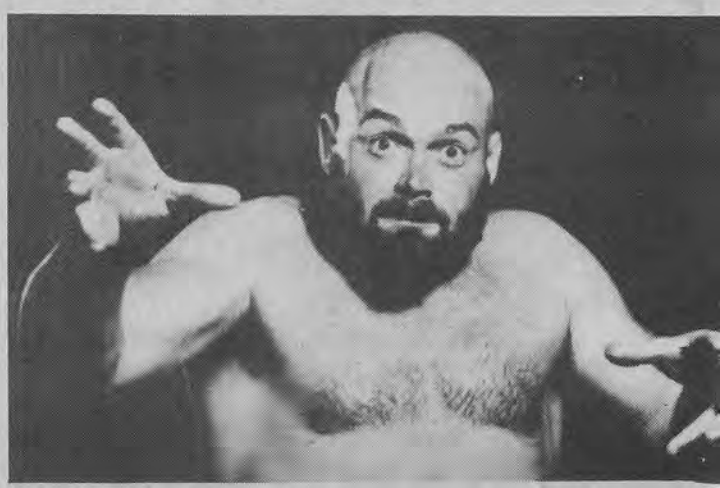
Recent visitors to New Zealand have been Cyclone Negro, Gorgeous George Jr. and Aussie Larry O'Dea.

Dean Lee, that tricky one, has just come home after a lengthy and triumphant tour of the British Isles.

Dr. Death, getting better every day, remembers his tours to California and Canada and would like to get another crack at North America as soon as possible.

When the Americans were here, they were found paying close attention to many of our lighter wrestlers. The U.S. main-eventers were witnessed, many times, standing in the darkened backs of the halls, watching the lights compete.

Terry Glassie, Peter Lane, Terry Henry, Hemi Karaka, Mike Wyse and Kevin Paulson came under close scrutiny. Also tabbed for future stardom by the Americans were Farmer Pete, Ale Tuhinga, Barry Drage, Lu Leota, Del Adams, Cliff Condren, Peter Lauder, Bobby Jamieson and Sammy Bartrum. They're all fighting for main-event status.



Onno Boelee is booked for a series of appearances overseas.

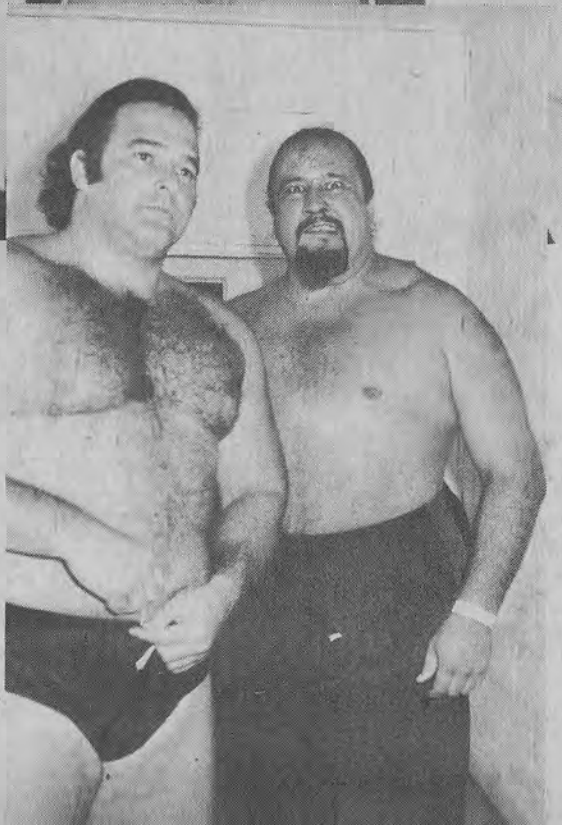
Jack Brisco, the hottest talent anywhere, showed his wares on a recent visit.



Mark Lewin and King Curtis never fail to pick up new fans — no matter what part of the world they compete in.

Frank Lipanovich, the Big Yugoslav, has just returned from a world tour and can't wait to team up with Johnny Garcia. They should be a cinch for the N.Z. Heavyweight Tag Championship.

Spiros Arion, a big favorite with fans here, is promoting matches in Greece and has invited a number of our boys to appear there for him.

We in New Zealand haven't seen too much of Robert Bruce lately. The Big Scot has been touring such faraway places as Australia, Japan, South Africa and Singapore. He's come home just long enough to pack his trunks for a return to Japan.

Another Scot — Johnny Scott, that is, has thrown in his bag of tricks with Dave Henderson, a seasoned campaigner. As a team, they are the most popular combination in the country.

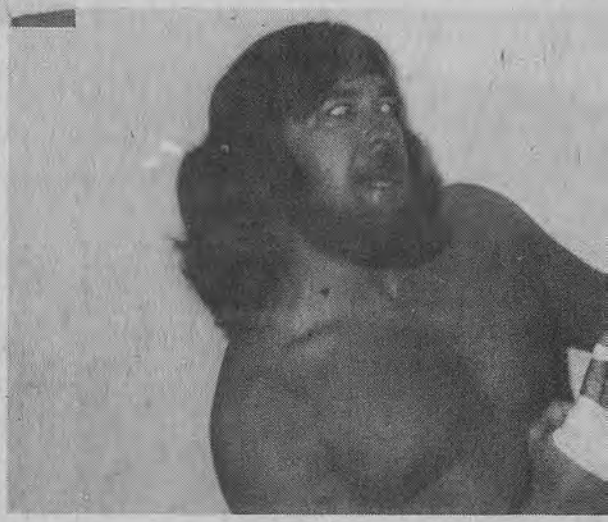
Rough, tough, rodeo star Bronco Barnes is in great shape and taking on all comers. His recent teaming with Texas' Killer Karl Cox was a big hit with the Aussies.

Tau Paa Paa and Alan Wendt remain the idols of this country's Polynesian population — their high-flying acrobatics are a big favorite.

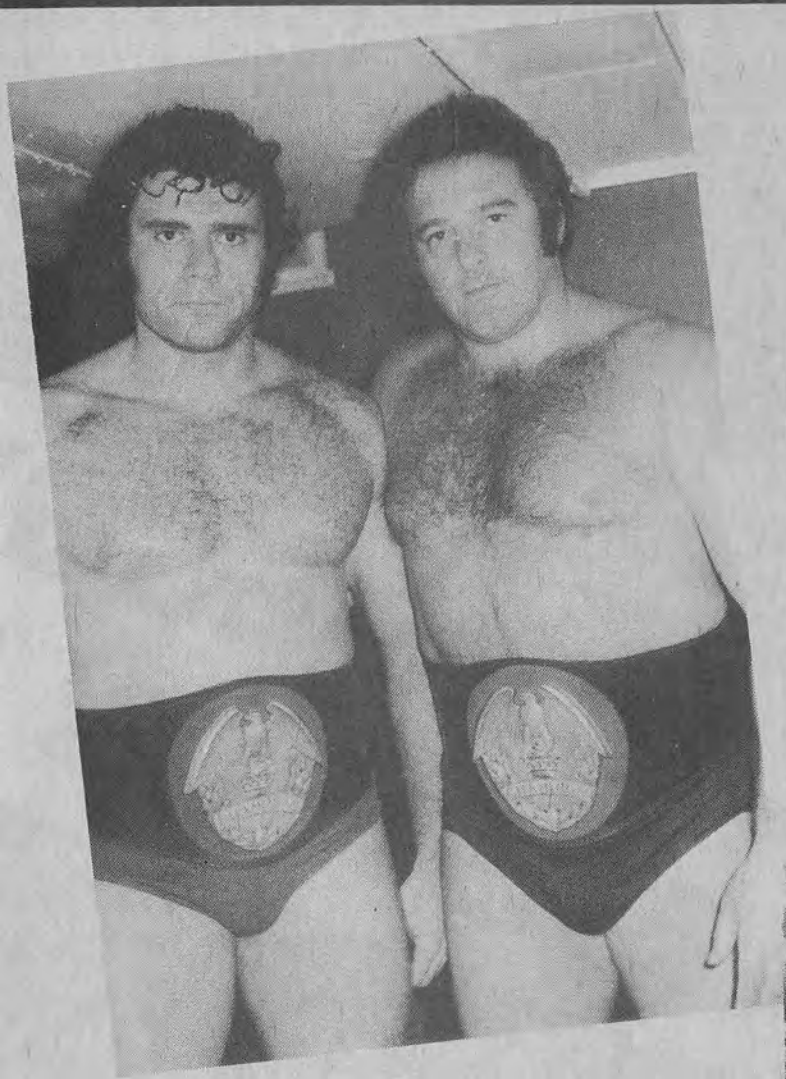
Jumping Joe Andrews of Samoa is no slouch in aerial tactics either. The old vet can still produce dropkicks from the most impossible angles.

Anxiously awaited arrivals on the New Zealand scene are Bobby Shane, Moose Morowski and Brute Bernard.

That's the latest from New Zealand, the land Down Under! ●



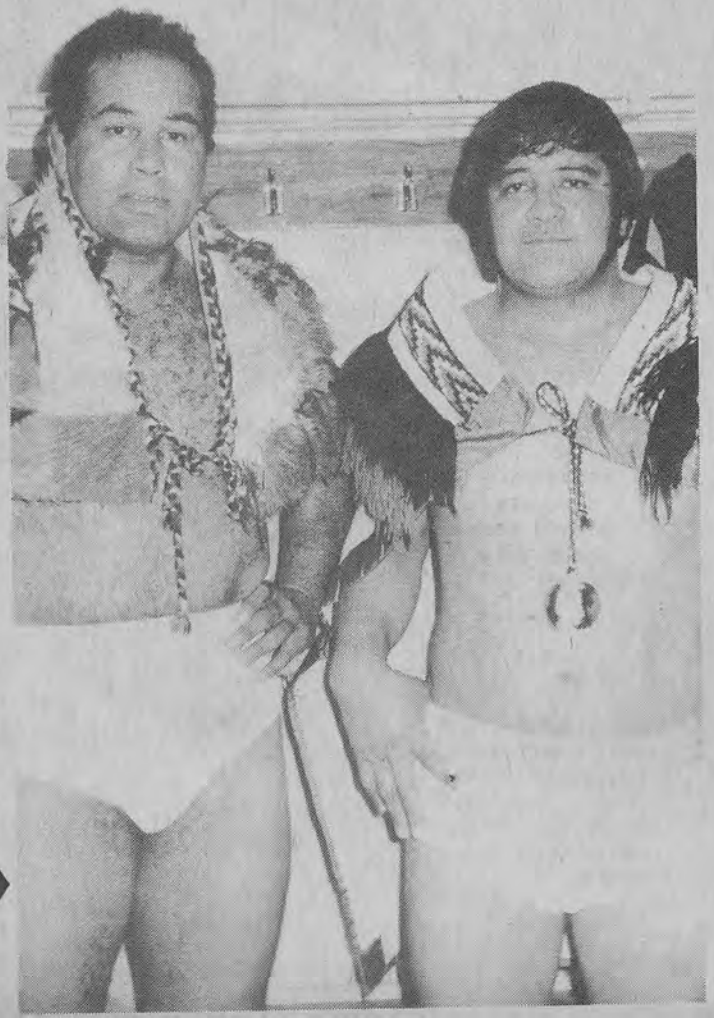
SPIROS ARION, A BIG FAVORITE WITH FANS



A pair of top wrestlers, Spiros Arion and Mark Lewin — with the hardware to prove it!

He says he's King Curtis. So who's arguing?

Big Bad John must be telling your correspondent to get his name right.



John DaSilva and Mita Mohi are big favorites of the fans south of the equator.

"HURRICANE PEGG
TAB PATTERSON

Though the complete southern lady in private life, Peggy Patterson is a terror inside the ring, asking nor giving any quarter against such a worthy foe as Lilly Thomas in Columbus, Ga.

by Jane Beverly

Y" PERFECT WAY TO RAGING IN SOUTH

Peggy sends Jan Sheridan to the mat during the heated action in Atlanta. Miss Sheridan, subbing for Debbie Johnson, gave an outstanding performance but the pride of Charlotte, N.C. still managed to gain the victory.

Meteorologists have captured the imagination of the media for nearly two decades by identifying hurricanes roaring out of the Carribean with women's attractive names.

Hopefully, the elements will remain on the calm side in the months ahead but should Mother Nature go on a rampage there is a young blonde in the southland who is setting the wrestling world on its ear with her spectacular style... certainly reminiscent of a human hurricane in any man's language.

Peggy Patterson is the explosive young lady out of Charlotte, N.C. who has designs on Fabulous Moolah's world crown.

She doesn't use any gimmicks in her publicity presentation but there is no performer better suited in the game today to be heralded as "Hurricane Peggy" than the aggressive Miss Patterson.

Currently drawing capacity crowds wherever she appears, Peggy hopes to land an appearance in Madison Square Garden before 1975 is over. That's one of Moolah's most respected areas but Miss Patterson believes she can displace her in the hearts of the fans if Promoter Vince McMahon will give her a shot in the World Wide Wrestling Federation territory.

"I have spent the last four years learning from many of the game's so-called top stars and now I know my lessons pretty well. I fear no girl in this business but I know there are plenty who fear me. Betty Niccoli, Vicki Williams, Donna Christanello, Toni Rose, Lise Raymond, Lilly Thomas... ask any of them about Peggy Patterson and see what they tell you."

The 24-year-old blonde has knocked over the majority of opponents promoters have matched her against and her box office charm is right up there with her sex appeal.

Peggy has appeared throughout the United States in recent years but it is in Dixie where her name has become a household word.

Paul Jones, veteran promoter in Atlanta, knows having Peggy on his cards is a big plus regardless of who's who in the male main event.

"Peggy is a complete wrestler although she has been in the game a comparative short time. Although she is a real lady and completely feminine outside the ring, Miss Patterson has to be one of the most aggressive and colorful wrestlers we've had down here for a long time."

The Fabulous Moolah has made many invasions in the south but conflicting commitments in recent months have kept these rivals apart.

"Maybe Moolah isn't ducking me because I understand her services are much in demand because she is the champion. But personally, I don't think that is any excuse. If she thinks she can beat anybody in the world as she is always saying, then let her get in the ring with Peggy Patterson. I am ready to prove who should have the title and I don't think I am bragging."

Whether it is in a solo event or a tag match, Peggy always gives 110 percent.

"I've always believed that anything a person tries in life should be done well. Why bother doing anything half way? I was like that in high school... swimming... track... basketball...

Paul Jones, veteran Atlanta promoter, poses proudly with Peggy Patterson who he considers one of most exciting and attractive distaff performers anywhere in the United States.

BLONDE LASS SETS SIGHTS FOR MOOLAH

Obviously enjoying her work, Peggy has Jan Sheridan in dire straits with a painful wrist lock and puts on the pressure in hope of a submission.

SAYS SHE HAS LEARNED WELL, POINTS FOR TOP

whatever I tackled I always wanted to be the best."

Jones admits fans are still talking about Peggy's wild victory over Jan Sheridan and her encounter with Lily Thomas in Columbus, Georgia was one of the best distaff matches anywhere in the state.

Joyce Grable was another rival who felt the wrath of Peggy's fantastic style in Athens and there was a memorable night in Lumberton, N.C. when Miss Patterson teamed with Paula Kaye to score a tag victory over Debbie Johnson and Susan Green.

Peggy prefers to wrestle scientifically if possible but there is another side to her offensive style if the opponent "wants to start pulling hair."

Peggy doesn't always have her way and the blonde bomber is on the receiving end here as Jan Sheridan flips her into the ropes.

Charisma is as natural with the 130-pound athlete as her accent of the old south's plantation days and while she continues to improve as a front-line performer, there is only one more star she wants to add to her crown — Moolah's diadem as queen of the wrestling world... ●

Girls will be girls and that means a lot of hair-pulling. Toni Rose exhibits the proper technique of throwing an opponent by means of this part of the anatomy. Penny Banner serves as the unwilling sparring partner.

Ever since women have discarded their Playtex gloves and elbowed their way into the formerly sacred terrains of chauvinist male society, things have not been the same. Women are demanding more and more and their sights have trained on anything and everything.

While wrestling cannot be considered a last frontier, as women have indulged in this particular sport for centuries, it is nevertheless not considered a "sport for the weaker sex". Many women have tried to discount this hypothesis, and among its leading proponents is the gal who, over a mercurial period, has entered the top ranks of professional wrestling, Toni Rose.

Toni Rose today enjoys the prestigious company of such top name stars as Penny

TONI ROSE REVEALS HER FEELINGS ABOUT MALE FANS

By DON BAKER

Banner, Vivian Vachon, and of course, the ubiquitous and champ of them all, The Fabulous Moolah. The lady is a climber. Ever since falling into the company of the professionals, she has been moving in one direction... up. One needs only to consult the records to verify this. Like many ambitious athletes who have not yet won the highest honor of them all, she does not look back. In her own terms she describes her approach to the grappling game and how she has arrived at her present station.

With a tinge of philosophy and a lot of good common sense she explains — "In order to get ahead in this game, one must be forever looking forward. There is no time to look back. There are too many girls waiting behind you waiting for you to do just that. The whole thing is not unlike mountain-climbing. It's a long, dizzying climb, the footing is precarious and treacherously deceptive. If you look down you may be overcome by vertigo and lose your balance. If you look straight up, you'll get there soner and safer.

"All the girls today in the sport are thinking along similar lines. They are all ambitious and with a view to the same spot — the championship title. We are then all mountain-climbers but not attached to the same safety-line. Wherever we can, we must try to send the others crashing to the bottom of the slope.

"It is a rough game. There is no question about that and only the hardiest of the species survive. Those who finally arrive at the top, after much hard work and effort, are always susceptible to being hurled from their position right down to where they started from. This has been the fate of many of the great gal battlers.

Toni Rose grinds her teeth together, grabs a good hold of a head of hair contributed by an aching Debbie Johnson, and sends her rival on her way.

STRANGELY ENOUGH, GIRL WHO LOSES GETS MOST OFFERS

Joyce Grable (you'll have to take our word for it) lies supine as Toni places two hands around her throat.

It is therefore imperative that once they have attained their position that they remain on their guard in protecting their hard-won niche, on the field of battle — the wrestling arena."

Toni Rose offers more than the magic of her wrestling style — she is extremely easy on the eyeballs. She comes across as a sensual wildcat whose long, dark, flowing locks swirl to the tune of the frenzied activity and whose supple movements and grace of limbs are all professional model's accessories.

It all is difficult to fathom how she maintains her superiority in the ring against other women twice her weight. She shrugs off our reference to this ability in overcoming greater odds and raises a point that we had not considered asking her. "I'll tell you what is difficult in overcoming sometimes. It is the men. Especially the ones who have paid a high price for the front row seats. Sometimes I wonder what they have come for — to see wrestling or pick up the gal grapplers. I speak for our sex and not just for myself because I know from some of the other girls that they have had the same experience.

"They come, I think, not only to see the fights but to let off some sexual energy. They try to pick you up after the matches. Some even, believe it or not, try to pick you up while we're going from the dressing room to the ring or even shout propositions at you during the match. Strangely enough, usually the girl who has lost the fight gets the most offers!" ●

A relentless stomper, many wrestlers have been forced to crawl to refuge from The Fish's boot

IF YOU DARE TO ANTAGONIZE GILLES POISSON JUST CALL HIM "FISH"

By GEORGE McCARTHER

You can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink. If you can lead a fish from water, can you make him wrestle? "C'mon, honestly Gilles Poisson, you made that name up, correct?"

I was talking to the husky six foot, two-hundred-and-seventy-three pound native of Jonquiere, Quebec in the dressing room of the Maple Leaf Gardens at Church and Carleton streets in downtown T-O (Toronto to the squares).

Poisson was in the Ontario capital that Sunday evening for a match with old perennial, Lee Henning.

"What do you mean?" Poisson came back at me. "My real true given name is Gilles (pronounced Jill) Poisson (Pu-wa-s-on). It's a French name and the translation of Poisson into English means Fish.

"The fans in Quebec chant "Poisson, Poisson" and everywhere else the chant is "Fish, Fish" — it didn't take the fans long.

This makes me extremely angry because my name is a beautiful name and the wrestling fans should respect it — at all times.

"If an Italian man is named Verdi or Scarpa, like Giuseppe Scarpa, translated that comes out in English as Joe Shoes. The German name Rothschild comes out Red Shield. You don't see people making fun of that. So don't ask me silly questions."

Gilles, I later found out, is anything but a fish. He broke into wrestling under the tutoring of Ray Ricci at the Palestre National where he won the Quebec novice at fifteen years of age and the open at sixteen. By the time he was eighteen he was not only the Canadian amateur wrestling champ, but also the British Empire amateur wrestling champion.

An amateur enthusiast promoter, Stu Hart, from western Canada called him and offered a substantial contract if he would agree to turn professional in his area. Wrestling promoters like professional hockey and football teams bid for the rookies to start their careers. (Verne Gagne is presently training Olympic medal winner Chris Taylor to become a professional wrestler. Chris was signed to a six figure contract by promoter Wally Karbo of Minneapolis and has the potential of becoming a big name in the world of professional wrestling.)

An arrangement was made and Gilles headed for the West and a fat wrestling contract. The pit was opened once more and Stu Hart brought Poisson to the chamber of tortures. The moans, groans, and screams could be heard for miles in the countryside as both men worked strenuously to achieve something great. When Stu thought his man ready, he started him from the bottom up.

From preliminaries to the main event. And then the Fish, as all the fans and wrestlers called him, went on tour.

His pride in his name was such that he had the insignia designed for his jackets, capes, trunks, and shoes. Now some wrestlers have bulls or lions, maybe a tiger or a panther, but nobody ever had a huge fish on his back or boots. Not realizing that the name was a translation, some people thought the fish meant he was some kind of a mark or a dupe. But they soon found out they were mistaken.

The Western, Southern and Atlantic Coast states, and the American Mid-west,

The Fish slams opponents into submission, even when they're dangling from the ropes

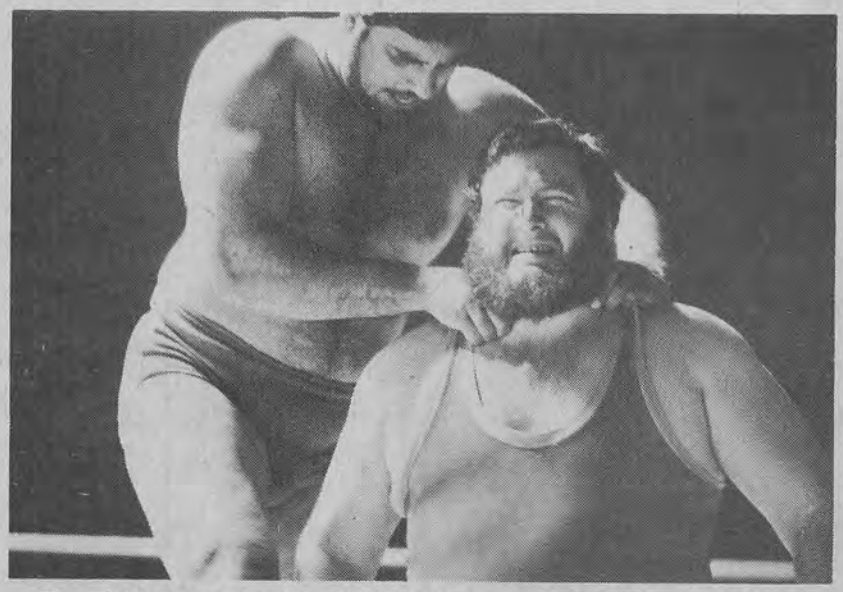
Stretched over the ropes himself, The Fish prepares to stun the audience with a surprise attack

The Fish may not always win, but even in defeat he's a hearty opponent

MANY OPPONENTS VICTIMS OF BRUTAL ATTACK



The Fish's great size is matched by his stamina and determination became victims of his brutal attack. Then came a visit to Japan and a very unusual experience.

"Because my name would be translated into English and then into Japanese, the people must have thought that I was a wrestling fish," Gilles told me without a trace of humor.

"They would come to me and say, you no fish, how come, you no fish?"

Poisson showed the Japanese wrestlers and fans alike that if he was a fish, it was a combination of shark and barracuda. A successful tour of the Orient was completed, and Gilles came back home to his native province of Quebec for the first time in three years.

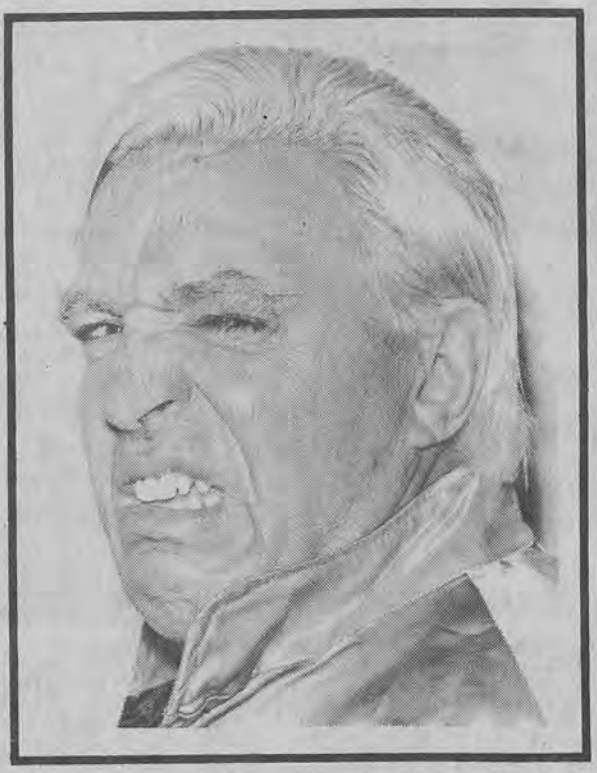
"It would be good to get home," he thought. He had hardly said a word in the French language since leaving the eastern Canadian province. The Grand Prix booking office had taken over in Montreal and all the wrestling names who were wrestling names made their appearance on the Grand Prix circuit.

Black Jack Mulligan, Baron Von Raschke, Cowboy Ellis, Crusher Lisowski, Bruno Sammartino, Killer Kowalski, and Tarzan Tyler were some of the stars bringing the office to the top of the wrestling class. Gilles signed a contract and put his bid in for the Grand Prix titles.

The Grand Prix titles are only for television stations and cities where Grand Prix wrestling is held. But there is so much money that goes with the honor that a wrestler does not have the expense of a lot of traveling and can still make top dollar.

First he teamed up with "Killer" Kowalski and they became the Grand Prix tag team champions. Later, when Kowalski left, he tagged with Tarzan "the

Tarzan "The Boot" Tyler was one of The Fish's early tag mates ➡



Boot" Tyler. The "Boot" and the "Fish" held the title, until a recent date when they dropped it to the Italian connection, Gino Brito and Dino Bravo.

In the meantime Gilles won the Grand Prix singles title. He still had that title when this story was being written. A workout bug, he squats with over six hundred pounds, having squatted in competition with six hundred and fifty pounds full squat.

His ambition is to face Bruno Sammartino either in the ring as a wrestler or in the gym as a lifter. Something Gilles doesn't talk about is the Montreal Canadiens having made a bid for his services. He played hockey in a semi-pro senior league, and was so good, that the Montreal team tried to sign him.

"I Love wrestling too much," he explains.

Poisson recently opened a wood factory in St. Hyacinthe, Quebec with his brother. It's called Perfecta Plywood Ltd. For relaxation he can be found in the dark rooms as he is a photo bug, and when not in the dark room he is probably on the water, skiing.

What does he eat?... fish, of course. Wrestler, weight lifter, businessman, photographer, water skier, athlete. And you think this guy is a fish? ●

Killer Kowalski was The Fish's first tag mate. As a team, they prospered. Together, The Fish and Killer Kowalski became Grand Prix tag team champions

THE NIGHT THEY BATTLED IN THE NUDE!

The impact of nude wrestling has been so tremendous that numerous publications have featured glamorous gals in the heat of action. OFFICIAL WRESTLING MAGAZINE presents, for the benefit of its readers, a photo coverage of a spontaneous nude battle — reproduced from one of our sister magazines.

Clothes couldn't stop the fury of heated battle!

The echoes of the opening bell had hardly faded away when both girls rushed each other with the raven-haired Teddi, wearing a blue bikini, trapping red-headed Suzanne, in black attire, with a punishing wrist hold while the latter tried to bridge.

The advantage repeatedly changed in the opening minutes and now it is Suzanne who has Teddi wincing from an arm lock...

By Nicolas Von Worth

HELL hah no fury like a woman scorned is usually applicable to a romantic flare up between the sexes but turbulent affairs of the heart don't have a priority on the axiom.

As the heated action (and that's in a literal sense) improved modesty went out the window as Teddie tore at Suzanne's bra and just wouldn't let go...

Certainly not after what this observer witnessed recently in a high rise condominium in downtown Atlanta.

This didn't start as an assignment for WRESTLING MONTHLY. It was all an accident but what an accident. I'm just grateful my sixth sense prompted me to take along a camera.

A media pal of ours tipped me to this unpublicized match. Since we had about three hours to kill before our flight to the west coast, why not?

As we drove through the heart of Atlanta's afternoon traffic on U.S. 75, our chum filled us in.

The principals were a couple of comely southern belles answering to the names of Teddi and Suzanne... no last names please.

Terri is a striking brunette, 23, standing five-foot, four with 111 pounds all in the right place. Suzanne is her red-head counterpart but she is 22 and weighs only 108, with or without bikini.

With space at a premium, the audience was limited to 15 perssons, all close friends of the girls.

There was no grudge here but both the young ladies agreed to no time limit in a fight to the finish. Each was confident of victory although they were pure novices.

The patrons of amateur girls wrestling were jammed along the walls on one side of the apartment while all the furniture was stacked in the bedroom.

The thick rug was perfect as a mat and before it was over Teddi and Suzanne would need it to cushion their repeated trips to the floor.

Right from the opening bell, Teddi and Suzanne threw caution to the wind. Since the match was on the 14th floor of this luxurious pad, we were glad everything was bolted down in case one tried to throw the other out the window.

That's exactly the kind of action that unfolded and the match wasn't a minute old when Teddi and Suzanne started tearing at each other's bikinis to gain the upper hand.

There was a certain sensuality pervading the apartment in this wild confrontation of flaiging arms and legs. Somebody must have turned up the thermostat... every eye was riveted on the octopuslike mound of curvacious flesh wriggling, punching, groaning, grunting and squealing in the center of the room.

First Suzanne... then Teddi... then Suzanne again had her op-

Teddi continued to maintain an advantage with a head lock but Suzanne's temper now had a short fuse and anything could happen.

Though caught by a headlock, Suzanne now has Teddi's bra off but suddenly finds herself again the victim of a punishing hold.

PRINT NAME & ADDRESS CLEARLY ON ORDER

Suzanne continues to maintain her advantage over a plucky rival, using a wrist hold and a half-scissors...

Any friendship between the girls has — at least temporarily — faded and Suzanne is the victim of a head scissors after trying to strangle Teddi with her own bra...

Teddi gets out of the scissors and successfully maneuvers to place her feet in the small of Suzanne's back, nearly lifting her off the floor...

ponent only one second away from a pin as the lovelies were now literally stripped for action and rocking each other with all the gusto of the pros.

With claret streaming down her face, the game but exhausted Suzanne signaled submission. Teddi pranced like a peacock but we've never seen such an enchanting peacock.

En route to the airport, we mulled the match over in our minds and came up with only one answer. Young ladies who start out in a huff can usually wind up in the buff... ●

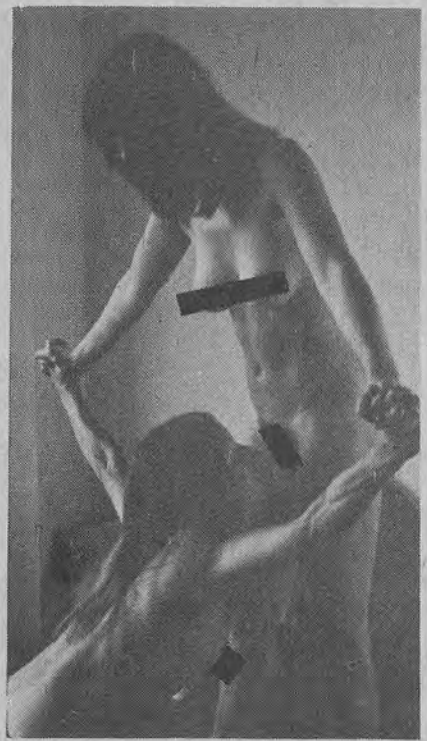
Suzanne is now completely nude and wants Teddi the same way as she determinedly tries to pull off the last remnants of the brunette's bikini....

Teddi's bikini is stubborn but Suzanne is determined to embarass her opponent by showing her in the buff...

Teddi is now as bare as the day she was born and Suzanne goes for a pin as she straddles the brunette trying to keep her immobile with wrist holds.

After a wild session of flailing arms and legs both Teddi and Suzanne work their way to a standing position but it is the latter who has the edge with an arm lock...

Suzanne now uses her heigh and strength to place Teddi's shoulders on the mat in hopes of getting a three-second pin count.



Now it is Teddi's turn, having wriggled free of her precarious position and calling on all of her strength to force Suzanne to the mat.

The end came suddenly and certainly at an inopportune time as Suzanne started kicking Teddi in the stomach and head just as our photographer was re-loading film. Teddi got a cut on her forehead and when Suzanne showed no signs of mercy, the young lady in black was forced to acknowledge submission as the blood cascaded down her pretty face...

The Other Kids Called Him "Chicken"

MR. FUJI
TOUGH MAT VILLAIN WHO LOVES TO COOK

It's a different story today, however. Fuji is proud to wear his champion's belt and is dedicated to furthering his career in wrestling. He plans to compete as long as he has his health and then retire to Hawaii.

The dream of all romantics is to stand on the warm sandy beach at Waikiki and watch the fiery red and yellow sun be swallowed up by the horizon.

Beautiful Hawaii, the Pacific island paradise. Who would want to leave and face the many elements of the mainland? Mr. Fuji walked back from the edge of the sea and sat in his car. He was contemplating a decision to leave his newly adopted home and travel to the United States and Canada.

There would be a lot of money to be made, and wasn't he in this profession for money? It was the lure of money that brought Mr. Fuji to the islands two years before.

Ironically enough it seemed like all the money in the world would not have been enough to interest our hero when he was a youngster. All Japanese children are instructed in judo, ju jitsu, and kendo from year one. By the time the male child reaches his first year of school he is a budding martial arts expert.

All boys are instructed in the oriental forms of self defense through elementary school and branch out into the sumo arts, boxing and wrestling in high school. The instruction is as compulsory as the uniforms that are worn. The early morning trains are filled to capacity with boys wearing dark navy blue trousers and jackets that button to the collar, with caps to match, on their way to classes.

And so young Fuji was enrolled in elementary school in his native Osaka, Japan's second largest city.

Not wanting to compete in the martial arts soon became a cause of embarrassment to his parents. So adamant was the young mind that teachers tried every approach to convince him that he had to learn physical education as well as mental education.

Receiving special dispensation, young Fuji finished elementary school without ever taking any instruction in the oriental forms of self defense. Open to the ridicule of the other children, Fuji entered high school. The harassment continued and he was accused of being cowardly.

To prove his worth he entered the wrestling class. The hidden strength emerged, and in his first year he won the scholastic championship in his weight class. The following year he took judo and ju jitsu and became a triple sport champion.

In the next two years he added Karate to his repertoire and was honored as champion in the four sports of self defense. Enrolling at the University of Osaka he added Kung-fu and became a master of the martial arts. A vast change from the crying youngster who refused to take instruction in his early years.

Leaving the University, Fuji turned to his first love, wrestling. He became an instant sensation.

TEAMS WITH PROFESSOR TARA TANAKA

Ed Francis the wrestling promoter of the Hawaiian islands was in Japan looking for talent and his prayers were answered when he saw Fuji. But why would he want to leave Japan? He was a rising star, a national celebrity. In the words from the Godfather, Francis gave him an offer he couldn't refuse.

Anticipation and reservation welled up in Fuji as he thought about going to Hawaii. He signed a one-year contract and landed in the land of poi and pineapples. In a short time he was the darling of Maui, Hilo and Honolulu. The islands are beautiful and a successful wrestler can become very spoiled.

Most weeks you wrestle once or twice. Never more than four times. You fly the thirty minute jumps to Maui and Hilo. Home every night. Sunshine all year around. Warm waters. Papaya and guava to eat. In short, paradise.

Fuji purchased a home and decided he would remain in the islands for life. Why would anyone want to go anyplace else?

Already the Hawaiian single champion, he was united with Professor Tara Tanaka to form an all Japanese team to challenge the Hawaiian tag team champions. A big man, Tanaka weighed in at two hundred and seventy pounds, five more than Fuji.

To say the least they made an awesome twosome. A very formidable team.

Moving through competent opposition they became tag team champions of the Hawaiian Islands. A coveted trophy to say the least. Few champions are ever asked to leave the islands, so it is a form of security to be the champion.

Two years had passed and promoters on the mainland were beckoning with fat contracts. Tanaka assured Fuji that he would enjoy the travel and experience besides the monetary means of exchange. His mind was made up. He would go with Tanaka to the mainland but would keep his home in Hawaii.

First stop was California, where they captured the West Coast tag team championship. And then on to the East Coast where Prof. Tanaka was already an institution.

If the wrestling fans hated Tanaka, they hated the Tanaka-Fuji team twice as much. Wading through the best teams in the area they won the W.W.W.A. tag team championship. The King of the W.W.W.A. roost is Bruno Sammartino and Tanaka told Fuji of the blood bath matches that he and Bruno had in his quest for the title. This whetted Fuji's appetite.

Fuji signed to meet Sammartino in a title match. When the dust settled after a hard fought bloody battle, Bruno was still champion. "This man is incredibly strong," Fuji related, "but I will beat him even if I have to follow him around the world to do it. Fuji never admits defeat. I don't know the meaning of the word!"

Prof. Tanaka, arm raised, is Fuji's tag team partner. They are the W.W.W.F. tag team titleholders.

During the week the team would compete with challenging wrestlers, but on Sundays or days off, Fuji and Tanaka would compete with each other. Only in this match, they used a skillet.

Friends would wait in line to be asked to share the culinary delights. "Of course our specialty is Japanese cooking, like Teriyaki, Sukiyaki and Tempura but we had branched out into other ethnic foods and the Prof. and I are thinking of opening a restaurant in Hawaii when our wrestling days are over."

In recent months Tanaka and Fuji have been wrestling as singles more often.

"We still compete as a team and also train together," Fuji told me. "But if you wrestle as a team for a long time you start depending on your partner and you become lazy. Also many wrestlers do not like tag action, so if you want to wrestle everyone you have to branch out as an individual."

Fuji makes sure he gets into the gymnasium at least three times a week. He works out with the weights in addition to the martial arts exercises.

"I can't wait to get back to Hawaii," Fuji said with a sort of homesick look on his face. "It is my adopted home, but I love it. I miss the surfing, the water and beaches, the weather and of course my home. But I am also a big car, fat wallet and diamond ring lover and I am doing exceptionally well in the financial end of things so I stay where the money is for as long as I am healthy."

A big strong man with lightning speed, Mr. Fuji has come a long way from Osaka. He is a hard man to put down and even harder to keep down.

Cheer him or boo him, he is an asset to professional wrestling. ●

A HARD MAN TO PUT DOWN EVEN HARDER TO KEEP DOWN

His opponent's head practically disappears as Fuji puts on the pressure during a recent solo appearance.

Not always the winner, Sailor sees to it that every fight becomes a vicious festival.

SAILOR WHITE ALWAYS A STREET BRAWLER

BUT NOW HE'S GETTING PAID FOR IT

By George McCarther

Sailor wears an array of tattoos typical of his former profession.

WHEN a Canadian tells a Polish joke, instead of a Pole being the dupe, he is replaced with a Newfie (someone born in the Atlantic province of Newfoundland). But don't make the mistake of telling that kind of story to Ed White, better known to the wrestling clientele as Sailor White.

Born in the old harbor city of St. Johns, Sailor was a rowdy, a brawler and street fighter from day one. He was arrested three times for street brawling before he ever entered grade school. Continued on page 62

THE GOLDEN AGE

THE GREATEST GIRL WRESTLERS OF ALL TIME IN ACTION!

Pioneered by Mildred Burke, undefeated world champion for twenty years, professional women's wrestling reached its zenith in the nineteen fifties. Top women wrestlers then worked main events in the biggest cities! Mildred Burke set gate records in the U.S., Canada, Mexico and the Far East that have never been beaten since—even by male pros.

In this GOLDEN AGE of girl wrestling, dozens of the top battlers made over $50,000 a year. Any good gal pro could make at least $20,000. The dollars were much bigger in those days than in our inflated seventies. Mildred Burke earned over a million dollars in the ring. The gold flowed heavily then to the girls who took the beatings in the ring, and the biggest prizes went to the most successful wrestlers.

These opportunities brought scores of tough, rugged, hungry and determined girls into the sport, ready to claw their way to the top—to fame and fortune. Thus were the settings created for the most violent, rough, no-quarter women's bouts ever seen. Today's world knows nothing like it, and tight-fisted promoters have swept away the most exciting ring spectacles of the twentieth century.

For those of you who yearn for the return of those unforgettable years in girl wrestling, and for those of you who were too young to remember it, the GOLDEN AGE of Girl Wrestling lives again in superb motion pictures! Made right from ringside with super lighting and photography, these movies are the greatest ever made of this gone-forever epoch of violence and action called the GOLDEN AGE.

Order your choice of these masterful movies today, and let the GOLDEN AGE of Girl Wrestling live again in your very own living room. Nothing like it available from any other source. Order now. Order them all. The GOLDEN AGE of Girl Wrestling has come again for you.

On one occasion he bit a large part of a six years old's ear off. The police were called and the victim's mother wanted to press charges but Sailor told the police that four kids had jumped him and that he was fighting for his life. I think he still has that piece of ear pickled in a jar in his parent's attic back on the East Coast island.

He was thrown out of three grade schools for attacking the teacher. So it was only natural that our tiny tar become a pugilist and a Golden Glove title winner in his novice year. On the island of Newfoundland if your income is not directly or indirectly from the sea, then you must have a money tree growing in your back yard.

And so young Mr. White went to sea on a beautiful pea-green boat as an able bodied seaman. If you want to see the world, especially every dingy port from Marseille to Shanghai, the way to go is on a merchant ship. But when you're only 15 years old, the older salts kind of put you through an initiation.

Some of the sailors decided they would ply their new found mate with a little grog and see if it might tone down his arrogance and brash manner. The rum was brought out and if you have never heard of Newfoundland Screech, it could best be described as white lightning but with a helluva lot more kick. After drinking some screech, men have looked down only to see their toe nails curl up and fall off their feet.

Talk about people going blind from a drink. Screech has such an effect on some people that Newfoundland doctors instead of extracting some patient's appendix, they give them a drink and it dissolves the offending part of your body. Anyway, they set up the youngster and started feeding him the liquid bomb. But he wasn't going under. Instead he was sipping drink for drink with them. When it looked like he was ready to go under they started pushing him around.

Realizing what his old mates were up to, White became a little rambunctious and started belting bodies. The fight went out on the deck with Sailor fighting four or five at one time. Grabbing the bosun around the neck and two other deck hands by the arm all four went over board. That little deal cost White 10 days pay and a severe reprimand. But it taught the other sailors that he wasn't going to be their patsy despite his youth.

Between the ocean trips, Sailor, who was now using this name in place of his Christian name, would enter amateur boxing contests.

Sailor sees to it that his opponents remember the punishment he hands out.

Weighing between 180 and 190 pounds he was the amateur heavyweight boxing champion of Newfoundland for five years. Six years aboard the ship and they were docked at the western port of Seattle, Washington.

Sailor was watching wrestling on television and they were giving the weights when one was announced as being from Montreal. White watched the match and always enjoying a good brawl, his emotions were on the side of his country man. After the match finished there was an interview with the winner, who was the Italian-Canadian from Montreal — Luigi Macera.

WENT TO SEA AT 15 YEARS OLD FROM NEWFOUNDLAND

Pain is no stranger to the man from Newfoundland, but he prefers not to be on the receiving end.

Not one to give up, Sailor can take it as well as he can dish it out.

"I will be wrestling here tomorrow night," Lou said, "and I want all my friends to come and say hello, especially my Canadian friends."

"He seemed to be talking straight to me," Sailor said, "So I said pal, I'll be there." The next night Sailor not only went to the matches but also back to the dressing room to introduce himself to his new friend. At first the conversation went peaceful but when White told Macera that he could beat the hell out of half of the wrestling card that night, that was too much for Lou. He told the hefty seaman to meet him at the local Y.M.C.A. the next day to see what he could do. Sailor couldn't wait for the next day.

Here he was going to get an opportunity to mix it up with a real pro. His thoughts went back to the night in Antigua, W.I. where he had gone into a bar for his favorite root beer. One word led to another and Sailor ended up taking on the whole joint. By the time he was finished, he had not only cleared out the place but was charged with $1200 worth the damage and took a first hand peek at the inside of the local hoosegow. Yes, this dumb pro wrestler didn't know, White thought, he has a tiger by the tail now. With that pleasant thought Sailor went to sleep looking forward to the following day. Early next morning White showed up at the Y, half thinking that Macera might not even show up. Lou had not only showed up, but was just completing a five mile run. Without going into the grisly details, White had met his match. Macera literally beat the hell out of him. After he was through, Luigi took him aside and told him that he had a lot of guts.

"Would you like to be a professional wrestler ?" Macera asked him. Would he! And how! Well, the rest is all history. Today Sailor White is an established star. Recently he toured the four islands of Japan for 11 weeks. He loves steaks and Newfie food. Reads skin magazines and chases girls. At five foot eleven and a half and now a husky 270 pounds, his favorite hold is a piledriver. For exercises it's weights, sit ups and push ups. Sailor White is not at sea these days but still in the middle of a brawl. Only now he gets paid for it. ●

Some of Sailor's fights have been known to end up as vicious brawls outside the ring.

when I planned to retire before fifty

this is the business that made it possible

a true story by John B. Haikey

Starting with borrowed money, in just eight years I gained financial security, sold out at a profit and retired.

"Not until I was forty did I make up my mind that I was going to retire before ten years had passed. I knew I couldn't do it on a salary, no matter how good. I knew I couldn't do it working for others. It was perfectly obvious to me that I had to start a business of my own. But that posed a problem. What kind of business? Most of my money was tied up. Temporarily I was broke. But, when I found the business I wanted I was able to start it for a small amount of borrowed money.

"To pyramid this investment into retirement in less than ten years seems like magic, but in my opinion any man in good health who has the same ambition and drive that motivated me, could achieve such a goal. Let me give you a little history.

"I finished high school at the age of 18 and got a job as a shipping clerk. My next job was butchering at a plant that processed boneless beef. Couldn't see much future there. Next, I got a job as a Greyhound Bus Driver. The money was good. The work was pleasant, but I couldn't see it as leading to retirement. Finally I took the plunge and went into business for myself.

"I managed to raise enough money with my savings to invest in a combination motel, restaurant, grocery, and service station. It didn't take long to get my eyes opened. In order to keep that business going my wife and I worked from dawn to dusk, 20 hours a day, seven days a week. Putting in all those hours didn't match my idea of independence and it gave me no time for my favorite sport—golf! Finally we both agreed that I should look for something else.

"I found it. Not right away. I investigated a lot of businesses offered as franchises. I felt that I wanted the guidance of an experienced company—wanted to have the benefit of the plans that had brought success to others, plus the benefit of running my own business under an established name that had national recognition.

"Most of the franchises offered were too costly for me. Temporarily all my capital was frozen in the motel. But I found that the Duraclean franchise offered me exactly what I had been looking for.

"I could start for a small amount. (Today, less than $1500 starts a Duraclean dealership.) I could work it as a one-man business to start. No salaries to pay. I could operate from my home. No office or shop or other overhead. For transportation, I could use the trunk of my car. (I bought the truck later, out of profits). And best of all, there was no ceiling on my earnings. I could build a business as big as my ambition and energy dictated. I could put on as many men as I needed to cover any volume. I could make a profit on every man working for me. And I could build little by little, or as fast as I wished.

"So, I started. I took the wonderful training furnished by the company. When I was ready I followed the simple plan outlined in the training. During the first period I did all the service work myself. By doing it myself, I could make much more per hour than I had ever made on a salary. Later, I would hire men, train them, pay them well, and still make an hourly profit on their time that made my idea of retirement possible —I had joined the country club and now I could play golf whenever I wished.

"What is this wonderful business? It's Duraclean. And, what is Duraclean? It's an improved, space-age process for cleaning upholstered furniture, rugs, and tacked down carpets. It not only cleans but it enlivens and sparkles up the colors. It does not wear down the fiber or drive part of the dirt into the base of the rug as machine scrubbing of carpeting does. Instead it lifts out the dirt by means of an absorbent dry foam.

"Furniture dealers and department stores refer their customers to the Duraclean Specialist. Insurance men say Duraclean can save them money on fire claims. Hotels, motels, specialty shops and big stores make annual contracts for keeping their carpets and furniture fresh and clean. One Duraclean Specialist recently signed a contract for over $40,000 a year for just one hotel.

"Well, that's the business I was able to start with such a small investment. That's the business I built up over a period of eight years. And, that's the business I sold out at a substantial profit before I was fifty."
